French Workers Go Out On Strike; Nation In Chaos

PARIS (AP) — Millions of French workers went on a 24-hour strike today to pressure the government for substantial wage increases. Millions more struggled through the day without electricity, public transportation and other services.

Suburban trains stayed in the stations, but some long-distance trains ran. Candles or portable gas lamps were the only illumination in thousands of shops and cafes. Extra police were called out to keep traffic moving without electric signal lights. Light rain discouraged hitchhikers who usually line the main roads into Paris when bus and subway workers go on strike. Office workers who made it in found elevators idle and building corridors dark.

Flights inside France were curtailed, but some planes kept flying. Many Air France international flights were canceled, but most foreign airlines kept up their services. No afternoon papers were published, and Wednesday morning editions were canceled.

It was the first general strike in France since the great wave of stoppages that tied up the nation for six weeks last May and June. When Premier Georges Pompidou sat down with the labor unions to end those strikes, a general wage increase of about 15 per cent was agreed on. Another meeting was set for March to discuss the price evolution.

When the March meeting came up last week, the government said that the standard of living had gone up about 9 per cent last year. It said it could not permit more than a 4 per cent wage increase in 1969 without risking inflation and possibly devaluation of the franc. The unions disputed the government figures and called for a 12 per cent wage hike. The talks broke down.

No mail was distributed. Some postoffices were open but the windows were not manned. Garbage cans littered the sidewalks.

Department stores were open, but many of the clerks were absent and there were few customers. Automobile traffic seemed to be no heavier than normal in the center of Paris, but bottle-necks developed in some parts of the outskirts.

U.S. Fliers To Be Freed By Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four U.S. fliers imprisoned in Cambodia for a month are in the process of being released, according to reports reaching Washington.

There was no immediate announcement from the White House or the State Department concerning the four. Cambodia says they were shot down when their plane violated Cambodian airspace Feb. 12.

However, it was understood that arrangements were under way for turning the men over to the Australian embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

A message from President Nixon may have figured in the release, though the White House had no immediate comment on this.

Prince Sihanouk said last week he would free the Americans upon receiving a personal message from Nixon.

The fliers were identified last week as Laird P. Osburn, Maj. Querin Herlik and Sgts. John Fisher and Rob Pryor. They were captured when their small observation plane was shot down Feb. 12.

Newport Police Nab Pair In Burglary

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Newport police captured two of three men caught in the act of burglarizing the Raaker Tire Service Co. here early today. The third man escaped by jumping through a window and dropping about 30 feet to the ground.

Police listed the two men, in custody as Wallace Gabbard, 31, Newport, and Ernest Spencer, 34, Middletown, Ohio.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who took over leadership of Dr. King's civil rights organization, says he is convinced by Ray's admission of guilt itself that the murder was part of a conspiracy.

"There are the unanswered questions," comments author William Bradford Huie, who wrote Ray's biography while Ray was awaiting trial on the murder charge.

But while these and other dissenting voices were being heard Dist. Atty. Philip M. Canale reiterated at a post sentencing interview Monday night that the state had uncovered no evidence at all of conspiracy.

Canale said the sums of money Ray spent hopping around the United States and Canada and finally to Europe, which

Landing Zone Clearing Up For Apollo 9

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Weathermen flashed the good news to the Apollo 9 astronauts today that a storm was abating in their Atlantic Ocean recovery area and that conditions looked good for their return to earth Thursday.

The welcome information came as Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart whirled through a leisurely day, their eighth in space.

The flight plan called for picture taking, navigation checks and rest as the astronauts continued to test out the Apollo command ship to prove its durability for a 10-day man to the moon mission.

Astronaut Stuart Roosa, the capsule communicator in mission control, told the spacemen "the weather looks like it's shaping up real well for Thursday morning. It's gonna be pretty good."

Commander McDivitt replied: "That's fine and dandy. Stu, you did good work."

Roosa reported a forecast of "winds of 15 knots and seas four to five feet with a few higher swells."

This is well within the limits of 28-knot winds and eight-foot waves that flight controllers consider acceptable.

Nevertheless, McDivitt quipped: "Keep working on it. That's not down to my specifications."

Planned splashdown time is 10:24 a.m. EST, with the carrier Guadalcanal waiting to retrieve the astronauts.

Mission control had been concerned about high winds and waves that buffeted the landing area southwest of Bermuda Sunday and Monday. If the condition persisted, Apollo 9 would have changed its landing zone by firing its retro-rocket one or two orbits earlier or later.

Heavy Snow Covers Much Of Southwest

Seventeen inches of snow piled onto the North-Central Arizona community around Flagstaff since early Monday. Five inches cloaked southeastern Utah during the night and 6 to 8 inches blanketed a stretch of northern New Mexico.

Travelers warnings and forecasts of continued heavy snow remained in effect from higher elevations of Arizona into southern Colorado. Stockmen's warnings were issued for southwestern Texas where cold rain and locally heavy snow were indicated.

Temperatures settled near zero or lower once again over the northern half of the North-Central Plains. Readings in the lower teens overspread a large part of the Midwest as well.

The deep south awoke to a frosty chill as the mercury skidded into the middle 20s across the Carolinas and Georgia and below freezing over northern Alabama and Mississippi.

Snow flurries and a few snow squalls whitened the region from the Great Lakes to the Appalachians before dawn.

Temperatures ranged from 15 below zero at Bozeman, Mont., to 61 at Key West, Fla.

City Schools To Place 6.7 New Levy, 9.3 Renewal On May Primary Ballot

An increase in the tax levy and change in the school calendar were the leading subjects at the rescheduled regular meeting of the Circleville Board of Education Monday night.

Members of the board approved a 6.7 mill tax increase to be submitted to the voters at the May primary election.

The request for new funds was based on reports of the needed teachers' salaries, new teachers, maintenance and other school expenses.

Board members also agreed to submit, on a separate ballot, a request for renewal of 9.3 mills of taxes on a continuing basis.

THE 9.3 mill tax levy renewal that the board seeks includes three smaller tax levies.

Superintendent Jacobs stated that the renewal of the current levies and passage of the new levies are necessary to operate the school for the next two years.

In other business before the board, approval was given to alter the present school calendar to provide an extended Easter Vacation next spring. The vacation will be extended two days.

Presently students begin their vacation Good Friday and return the following Thursday. The new calendar will give students the entire week following Easter as a vacation.

Resignation of Donald Poling as athletic director and Richard Fisher as assistant football coach were "reluctantly accepted" by the board.

Teacher resignation included those of Arthur Lovelace, John Pember, Agnes Ice, Stephen Spicer and Garold Sowder.

A COMMITTEE of the Band Boosters discussed purchase of new uniforms with the board. The board approved the purchase, to be made with Band Booster funds, of 100 new uniforms. Estimated cost of the uniforms is $10,000.

A language master system was approved by the board for the Atwater School. The system costs $1,082. The Atwater PTA has agreed to pay $300 of the

Heavy Fighting Brings Alert Around Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting raged today at four points northwest of Saigon, and Viet Cong forces shelled more than 60 allied bases and towns, including the old imperial capital of Hue.

U.S. officers said the increased action signaled the start of the third phase of the spring offensive the enemy launched Feb. 23. They said the period from now until Saturday was a "critical one," and the alert status at some American bases was increased.

Military analysts said Saigon still appeared to be the Viet Cong's main objective. They said the main bodies of four enemy divisions—poised to the west, northwest, north and northeast of the capital—had made no serious move toward the city but that local regional forces were "gravitating" from the south and east toward the capital military district.

"When it's time to attack Saigon," said one analyst, "the subregional forces will spearhead the attack, while the forces from the divisions will try to maneuver at the opportune moment and try to follow in."

The four fights in which American forces reported killing 120 North Vietnamese troops centered in a relatively small area of Tay Ninh Province, as did a large number of the rocket and mortar attacks. U.S. casualties in the ground fighting were reported as five killed and 20 wounded, all in a strong infantry attack on an American base 53 miles northwest of Saigon.

The North Vietnamese 1st Division sent about 400 troops against a patrol base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division called Landing Zone Grant. Reports from the field said about 50 North Vietnamese were killed in the second attempt in four nights to overrun the base under cover of a heavy barrage from 120mm mortars.

Nigerian Jet Hits Capital Of Biafra

IMUAHIA, Biafra (AP) — A Nigerian Ilyushin jet bomber struck this Biafran capital at luncheon today, killing at least 35 persons with strikes on a market place and a truck repair shop.

The white jet swept twice over the city, dropping eight bombs in runs over a populated area that lies about a half mile from a railroad track.

Some of the bodies were so mutilated they were carried in pieces from the area in blue plastic sacks. Children screamed in the streets.

A bearded man in short pants, shouted at the top of his voice: "Those were military targets? I ask you, I ask you."

The bombing raid on the city was the first in more than a week, although a jet has hit at villages and other targets in the interim.

If there was a military objective in the area it was not apparent. The railroad tracks are about half a mile from the bomb craters.

Patrol Conducts Riot Schooling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol announced today it is conducting a series of civil disturbance schools for officers of Ohio sheriff's departments and municipal police agencies.

The two and three-day schools are being held at the patrol academy here. The FBI, Ohio National Guard, Highway Patrol, municipal police officers and sheriffs are included in the instructors for the course.

Patrol Supt. R. M. Chiamonte said the curriculum includes a study of the character and legal aspects of civil disturbances, the use of chemical Mace, various drills and formations, collecting and preserving evidence, arrest and booking procedures and use of firearms.

Bucher Backs Pueblo Crew

Praises Conduct During Captivity

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The captain of the USS Pueblo choked back tears and commended "the over-all conduct of my entire crew"—then singled out 49 of his 81 surviving crewmen for special mention.

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher was testifying Monday at his own request on questions he felt hadn't been answered by the eight-week inquiry into the capture of the Pueblo last year and conduct of its men during 11 months in North Korean prison.

Bucher, 41, was summoned to take the stand again today to answer questions from Navy attorneys and from the five admirals on the Navy court of inquiry.

It was Bucher's third session on the stand. He opened the inquiry with a narrative of the capture and his own torture, then re-appeared a few weeks later to answer questions.

In commending his crew for "success . . . in ridicule and discreditation of the North Koreans," and in describing how his men were tortured, Bucher approached tears five times.

The first was when he told about hearing "yells and screams of pain" while the North Koreans beat his crew.

His voice broke as he told how he was threatened with death during "hell week," a time of intensive torture which Bucher said resulted from discovery of the derisive gestures.

Ban On Unsolicited Credit Cards Opposed By Bankers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio banking lobby is lining up against a Democratic-sponsored bill to prohibit the distribution of unsolicited credit cards.

The executive head of the Ohio Bankers Association, O. E. Anderson, told the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday night that the bill is "short-sighted" because all banking in the future will revolve around the credit card.

"It's the natural extension of a bank's lending function," Anderson added.

He said that 65 banks in Ohio have credit card systems and that many others are planning to go into mass credit card issuance.

Anderson said his organization would not oppose "whatever can be done to assure a receiver of a card from fraudulent use or misuse" and would be "glad" to help the committee work out such legislative proposals.

He told the committee that Ohio banks learned a lot from "the unfortunate Chicago experience" where several mailbags of bank credit cards were stolen and used by organized crime and that "the mistakes were not repeated here."

The vice president of the City National Bank in Columbus, Roman Gerber, testified that when his bank started the Bank Americard program in late 1967, it sent unsolicited cards to Columbus residents with good credit ratings.

"The mass issuance of credit cards is the only effective way to establish a mass credit card base," he explained. "It is a satisfactory market method."

Gerber said that once a bank establishes its credit card program, it doesn't need to rely so heavily on mass mailings.

He said City National's total active Bank Americard accounts 35 per cent were originally mailed to unsolicited prospective customers and 65 per cent were made through applications.

Gerber said the issuing of unsolicited credit cards does not create a situation where those receiving the cards over-borrow.

He said in 1968 only 1.4 per cent of the bank's active credit card accounts were delinquent. Of these, he said, .92 per cent were opened by request.

The Columbus banker said City National "has never sought recovery from a person who has received an unsolicited credit card which has been fraudulently used by a third person."

He said the bank's fraud loss has been .85 per cent on credit cards.

Medic Sees Destructive Impulse In Sirhan Conduct

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is pictured by a defense psychologist as a man who is "constantly thinking of destroying everybody, including himself."

That evaluation of the mind of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was presented Monday by Dr. Martin Schorr, a clinical psychologist, to the jury that must decide whether Sirhan had the mental capacity to plan Kennedy's murder. Sirhan's defenders hoped to save him from the gas chamber by their claim that he did not. Premeditation must be proved for conviction on the first-degree murder charge.

Schorr was scheduled to continue his testimony today. Perhaps the most attentive person in the courtroom as the trial went into its 10th week was Sirhan. He laughed self-consciously as the psychologist described the defendant's reactions to ink blot tests projected on a screen.

"He feels he has a special kind of insight of what's wrong and right," said Schorr. "I asked him what he felt and he said, 'There's nothing wrong with me.'"

Schorr described Sirhan as a paranoid, an individual who "protects himself from the stresses and strains and demands of society by behaving in a highly evasive or guarded manner."

Then he gave support to the defense contention that Sirhan's childhood in war-torn Palestine damaged his personality.

"The paranoid development is a long insidious process," Schorr said.

"Paranoid people are usually not stupid, they are usually quite bright," said Schorr. In Sirhan's case: "He is highly aggressive . . . there are violent strivings inside that seek expression."

Imprisonment Legal, Justices Decide

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1st District Court of Appeals has ruled that the imprisonment section of Cincinnati's income tax law is constitutional.

The decision reversed one last October by Judge Robert Kraft of the Hamilton County Municipal Court. Then, Kraft dismissed a charge of failure to file a 1966 tax against Paul DeGolyer of Cincinnati on grounds that the tax was a debt and should be a civil matter.

Mrs. King Still Says Slaying Was Conspiracy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The widow of Martin Luther King Jr., says his assassination was the work of more than one person and is still on the conscience of the nation despite the sentencing of James Earl Ray to 99 years in prison.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who took over leadership of Dr. King's civil rights organization, says he is convinced by Ray's admission of guilt itself that the murder was part of a conspiracy.

Canale said the sums of money Ray spent hopping around the United States and Canada and finally to Europe, which seemed to some suspiciously large, probably came from the assassin's own efforts as a smuggler and holdup man.

Ray "got money from several sources," Canale told newsmen, and saved a "fairly substantial sum of money while in prison" in Missouri before the escape which led ultimately to King's death by a rifle bullet on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

Canale said his investigators believed Ray mailed the money out of the prison before he escaped.

Canale added that the investigators believe Ray obtained funds in "one armed robbery and maybe two robberies in Montreal," one in London, and profited by smuggling jewelry and drugs into the United States after his prison break.

Ray's statements in court Monday confused many who heard them.

After entering his plea of guilty to first-degree murder he stood up and told the judge he disagreed with the theory that no conspiracy was linked with the assassination.

Under questioning by the court, however, Ray said he was still pleading guilty.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said Ray's plea of guilty had not closed the books on its original investigation of a possible conspiracy.

In Atlanta, Coretta King, the widow, said Ray's plea of guilty "cannot be allowed to close the case, to end the search for the many fingers which helped pull the trigger."

U.S. Campus Disturbances Still Unsettled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Campus protesters around the country were doing their own thing today, whether it was teaching themselves architecture, setting up a black culture center or experimenting with coeducational living.

About 200 of the 225 architecture students at the University of Syracuse began a class boycott Monday to back demands for replacement of their school dean with a student-faculty commission.

Citing curricula they called irrelevant and a lack of student participation in policy making, they set up off-campus classes taught by themselves until the university meets their demands.

Negro demonstrators at Beloit College in Wisconsin set up their own Afro-American culture center in the school administration building after rejecting the college president's response to their demands.

One demand is for such a center. They left the building after four hours but said they would continue to sponsor the substitute center until the school establishes one itself.

At Columbia University about 110 girls from Barnard College were living in two men's dormitories to dramatize student demands for coeducational living facilities. The administration said the question was not whether the students could have such facilities but "how we can do it."

In another development about 100 Columbia faculty members joined in declaring that the university has "the obligation to defend itself" and called for stronger measures against disruptive student protesters.

Bill Sought For Speedy Marriages

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The president of the Nevada Council of Churches is backing a bill that would permit couples to marry by signing a piece of paper.

Don Winne, the council president, and other clergymen have testified before the Nevada Legislature in support of "paper" weddings. They say that doing away with a required wedding ceremony would put a quick end to a $60-million-a-year business that features "Marryin' Sams" and neon signs advertising 24-hour-a-day "wedding chapels" where credit cards can be used to pay for the ceremony, flowers and photographs.

Nonclergymen conducting weddings frequently make as much as $100,000 a year, testimony at legislative hearings shows.

There is no waiting period for a marriage license in Nevada and an attraction for out-of-state couples.

Of 90,000 weddings in Nevada last year, 5,000 were performed in churches, claims George Flint, vice president of the State Wedding Chapel Association.

Ban On Unsolicited Credit Cards Opposed By Bankers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio banking lobby is lining up against a Democratic-sponsored bill to prohibit the distribution of unsolicited credit cards.

The executive head of the Ohio Bankers Association, O. E. Anderson, told the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday night that the bill is "short-sighted" because all banking in the future will revolve around the credit card.

The Columbus banker said City National "has never sought recovery from a person who has received an unsolicited credit card which has been fraudulently used by a third person."

He said the bank's fraud loss has been .85 per cent on credit cards.

Medic Sees Destructive Impulse In Sirhan Conduct

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is pictured by a defense psychologist as a man who is "constantly thinking of destroying everybody, including himself."

That evaluation of the mind of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was presented Monday by Dr. Martin Schorr, a clinical psychologist, to the jury that must decide whether Sirhan had the mental capacity to plan Kennedy's murder. Sirhan's defenders hoped to save him from the gas chamber by their claim that he did not. Premeditation must be proved for conviction on the first-degree murder charge.

Schorr was scheduled to continue his testimony today.

Perhaps the most attentive person in the courtroom as the trial went into its 10th week was Sirhan. He laughed self-consciously as the psychologist described the defendant's reactions to ink blot tests projected on a screen.

"He feels he has a special kind of insight of what's wrong and right," said Schorr. "I asked him what he felt and he said, 'There's nothing wrong with me.'"

Schorr described Sirhan as a paranoid, an individual who "protects himself from the stresses and strains and demands of society by behaving in a highly evasive or guarded manner."

Then he gave support to the defense contention that Sirhan's childhood in war-torn Palestine damaged his personality.

"The paranoid development is a long insidious process," Schorr said.

"Paranoid people are usually not stupid, they are usually quite bright," said Schorr. In Sirhan's case, "He is highly aggressive... there are violent strivings inside that seek expression."

Imprisonment Legal, Justices Decide

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1st District Court of Appeals has ruled that the imprisonment of Cincinnati's income tax law is constitutional.

The decision reversed one last October by Judge Robert Kraft of the Hamilton County Municipal Court. Then, Kraft dismissed a charge of failure to file a 1966 tax against Paul DeGolyer of Cincinnati on grounds that the tax was a debt and should be a civil matter.

Heavy Fighting Brings Alert Around Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting raged today at four points northwest of Saigon, and Viet Cong forces shelled more than 60 allied bases and towns, including the old imperial capital of Hue.

U.S. officers said the increased action signaled the start of the third phase of the spring offensive the enemy launched Feb. 23. They said the period from now until Saturday was a "critical one," and the alert status at some American bases was increased.

Military analysts said Saigon still appeared to be the Viet Cong's main objective. They said the main bodies of four enemy divisions—poised to the west, northwest, north and northeast of the capital—had made no serious move toward the city but that local regional forces were "gravitating" from the south and east toward the capital military district.

"When it's time to attack Saigon," said one analyst, "the subregional forces will spearhead the attack, while the forces from the divisions will try to maneuver at the opportune moment and try to follow in."

The four fights in which American forces reported killing 120 North Vietnamese troops centered in a relatively small area of Tay Ninh Province, as did a large number of the rocket and mortar attacks. U.S. casualties in the ground fighting were reported as five killed and 20 wounded, all in a strong infantry attack on an American base 53 miles northwest of Saigon.

The North Vietnamese 1st Division sent about 400 troops against a patrol base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division called Landing Zone Grant. Reports from the field said about 50 North Vietnamese were killed in the second attempt in four nights to overrun the base under cover of a heavy barrage from 120mm mortars.

Nigerian Jet Hits Capital Of Biafra

IMUAHIA, Biafra (AP) — A Nigerian Ilyushin jet bomber struck this Biafran capital at lunchtime today, killing at least 35 persons with strikes on a market place and a truck repair shop.

The white jet swept twice over the city, dropping eight bombs in runs over a populated area that lies about a half mile from a railroad track.

Some of the bodies were so mutilated they were carried in pieces from the area in blue plastic sacks. Children screamed in the streets.

A bearded man in short pants, shouted at the top of his voice: "Those were military targets? I ask you. I ask you."

The bombing raid on the city was the first in more than a week, although a jet has hit at villages and other targets in the interim.

If there was a military objective in the area it was not apparent. The railroad tracks are about half a mile from the bomb craters.

Patrol Conducts Riot Schooling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol announced today it is conducting a series of civil disturbance schools for officers of Ohio sheriff's departments and municipal police agencies.

The two and three-day schools are being held at the patrol academy here. The FBI, Ohio National Guard, Highway Patrol, municipal police officers and sheriffs are included in the instructors for the course.

Patrol Supt. R. M. Charamonte said the curriculum includes a study of the character and legal aspects of civil disturbances, the use of chemical Mace, various drills and formations, collecting and preserving evidence, arrest and booking procedures and use of firearms.

Mrs. King Still Says Slaying Was Conspiracy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The widow of Martin Luther King Jr., says his assassination was the work of more than one person and is still on the conscience of the nation despite the sentencing of James Earl Ray to 99 years in prison.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who took over leadership of Dr. King's civil rights organization, says he is convinced by Ray's admission of guilt itself that the murder was part of a conspiracy.

"There are the unanswered questions," comments author William Bradford Huie, who wrote Ray's biography while Ray was awaiting trial on the murder charge.

But while these and other dissenting voices were being heard Dist. Atty. Philip M. Canale reiterated at a post sentencing interview Monday night that the state had uncovered no evidence at all of conspiracy.

Canale said the sums of money Ray spent hopping around the United States and Canada and finally to Europe, which seemed to some suspiciously large, probably came from the assassin's own efforts as a smuggler and holdup man.

Ray "got money from several sources," Canale told newsmen, and saved a "fairly substantial sum of money while in prison" in Missouri before the escape which led ultimately to King's death by a rifle bullet on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

Canale said his investigators believed Ray mailed the money out of the prison before he escaped.

Canale added that the investigators believe Ray obtained funds in "one armed robbery and maybe two robberies in Montreal," one in London, and profited by smuggling jewelry and drugs into the United States after his prison break.

Ray's statements in court Monday confused many who heard them.

After entering his plea of guilty to first-degree murder he stood up and told the judge he disagreed with the theory that no conspiracy was linked with the assassination.

Under questioning by the court, however, Ray said he was still pleading guilty.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said Ray's plea of guilty had not closed the books on its original investigation of a possible conspiracy.

In Atlanta, Coretta King, the widow, said Ray's plea of guilty "cannot be allowed to close the case, to end the search for the many fingers which helped pull the trigger."

Board Explains Tax Requests

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following news release was prepared by the board of education to explain its actions in requesting a new 6.7 mill levy and renewal of 9.3 mills in existing tax levies.

The Circleville City Board of Education, following a comprehensive study and projection of needs, is taking the necessary action at this time to place an additional operating levy on the May ballot and to renew at the same time all present voted millage for current operating expenses on a continuous basis as provided for by current legislation.

The amount of the renewal is 9.3 mills and the amount of the proposed increase is 6.7 mills. The issues will appear on separate ballots in order that a distinction of the renewal and the additional levies can be clearly understood. A majority vote is necessary for each issue.

The renewal levy is proposed in one package in order to place all present levies on a continuing basis and to prevent the necessity of renewal levies of small millage to appear on separate ballots in the future, which require added costs to the district and taxpayer. Each election costs the district approximately $2,000 and without present levies no school program could be provided. Approval of the renewal levy is necessary for operation of school next school year. Without approval, all state funds would be lost together with more than 25 per cent of local funds.

The additional levy is of major importance to provide a school program through the calendar year 1970 and beyond. In order to receive additional funds in 1970, the levy must be approved in 1969. The public is presented with the opportunity to meet the needs in time to prevent the magnitude of problems that will result without additional funds.

If the additional 6.7 mills is not approved in 1969 for 1970, the millage request by necessity will be raised because of lost revenue for the year 1970.

The Circleville City School District is one of many districts that either faced this necessity last November or face it now. Millage increases of considerable size are common place among school districts due to the effects of S.B. 350 passed by the 107th General Assembly, the general rising costs of living, competition for obtaining and retaining teaching staff, legislation which removes a agriculture from personal property tax base by 1972 and reduces certain merchants' personal property from 70 to 60 per cent by 1971, and the requirement to continue to improve educational opportunity.

back after two hours of pounding by gunship helicopters and artillery. Last Saturday, 15 enemy troops and 11 Americans were reported killed in an attack on the base.

Two miles farther north, other troops of the 1st Air Cavalry division backed by helicopter gunships reported killing 14 enemy soldiers without suffering any casualties.

Fourteen miles to the south, more than 100 North Vietnamese troops attacked an armored cavalry unit of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division in night bivouac. Tanks, armored personnel carriers and helicopter gunships raked the charging enemy, and U.S. headquarters reported 38 enemy soldiers killed with no American casualties.

Another 18 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed when dive-bombers and helicopter gunships caught them moving a mile from the Cambodian border, 63 miles north of Saigon.

Young Not Worried By Glenn Bid

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says he is not worried by reports former astronaut John Glenn may seek his Senate seat in 1970 because Glenn "has no qualifications whatsoever to be a U.S. Senator."

"It's far too early for me to make a definite announcement on what I'll do in 1970," said the 79-year-old Young. But Glenn's interest in his Senate seat is "no interest to me," he said.

Young said "He (Glenn) was a good test pilot. A brave astronaut. He has no qualifications whatsoever to be a U.S. Senator."

Then he attacked Glenn's qualifications as if he was in the think of a political contest.

Young said Glenn, a native of New Concord, Ohio, voted for Richard M. Nixon for president in 1960, is not a resident of Ohio and did not vote in the Democratic primaries of 1964 and 1966.

He speculated Glenn could run as a Republican for the U.S. Senate in New York City, where he recently moved.

Young refused to speculate on his own political future, "At the moment," he said.

"We don't know," he added, "whether our primary will be in April or August."

Several bills proposing to change the primary date are currently pending in the Ohio Legislature.

Young predicted the Sentinel antiballistic missile proposal would be defeated in the Senate by a close vote.

He said "If it is perpetrated it could well be the most gigantic boondoggle ever put across on the American public."

Young said America's greatest defense was its powerful offense. He said the United States started with the Soviets; cancel the project altogether; or go ahead with a modified version.

Pentagon officials were saying Monday that a decision to shift Sentinel sites farther from cities would virtually rule out any significant expansion of the system for years.

The President was believed to have reviewed such a move as one of several compromises to meet Senate criticism that the system would evolve into a much costlier project and to meet the criticism of local residents who fear accidental detonation of nuclear warheads.

The Sentinel system is comprised of two missiles—the Spartan, which is designed to intercept an incoming missile 400 to 500 miles out and the Sprint, designed to intercept at 30 to 40 miles.

Pentagon officials said putting the Spartan sites too far away from the cities would make it difficult and much more expensive to effectively add Sprints. New sites would have to be acquired for the Sprints closer to the cities.

St. Joseph School Holds Science Fair

St. Joseph School held its annual science fair March 8. There were 15 students who received superior ratings, and 23 who received excellent ratings.

Students receiving superior ratings were Rebecca Goode and Daniel Sill, eighth grade; Donald Abbott, Marcia Plescia, Mary Schuer, Richard Sill and Ted Sill, seventh grade; Regina Goode, Joyce La Fontaine and Mary Jo Carle, sixth grade; Margie Hanas, Michael Monarski and Michael O'Hara, fifth grade; Paul Monarski, fourth grade; and Michael Burdzinski, third grade.

Excellent ratings were awarded to Romona Billups, Joseph Dorian, Sue Elliott and Jeri Trecker, eighth grade; Jacob Carle and Rebecca Steely, seventh grade; Bruce Brudzinski, Jeff Hang, Bruce Nichols, Jerrie Conrad, Anne Frericks, Elizabeth Goeller, Betsey Lake, Audrey May, Catherine Routt and Robin Roy, sixth grade; William Bruno and William Carle, fifth grade; Christopher Blubaugh, Michael Bruno and Rita Steely, fourth grade; Joan Goode and Paul Gurney, third grade.

Judges for the contest were Donald Poling, Ronald Kazierczak, Richard Theis and Ronald Winkler.

Second Of Three Alleged Burglars Released On Bond

Bond was posted Monday for Roy Penwell, Washington C. H., charged with the illegal possession of burglary tools.

Penwell, John Blevin of Columbus and William Morris were bound over to the Pickaway County Grand Jury Friday on $25,000 bond each for possession of the burglary items.

Blevins, who was released on bond Monday, is still facing charges in Urbana where he is free on $10,000 bond.

Charges of burglary and grand larceny are pending against Penwell in Trussville, W. Va. Penwell had previously posted a $10,000 bond there.

License Plates Stolen From Car

License plates were stolen from a car being used by Harold Waldren of Route 1, Lockbourne sometime Sunday night, according to a report filed with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Waldren told sheriff's deputies that he parked the car, owned by his employer the Spetzer Dodge Company of Columbus, in front of his residence at the Lockbourne Lodge Trailer Court about 11 p.m. Sunday.

When he returned to get the car Monday morning the dealers license plates had been removed from the car, he stated.

The incident is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Nixon Confers With Solons; ABM Decision Said Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called in Republican congressional leaders today amid indications a decision was imminent on deployment of the controversial Sentinel missile system (ABM).

There were some indications, too, as Nixon ended a three-day Florida stay Monday night that the decision he promised last week might be announced in a national radio-television appearance.

Nixon said at the outset of his Florida weekend that he would be spending his time studying the ABM and he spent his last day at Key Biscayne discussing it with Henry A. L. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs.

The President's options appeared to include delaying deployment of the $5-billion system still longer, perhaps until after disarmament talks can get started with the Soviets; cancel the project altogether; or go ahead with a modified version.

Pentagon officials were saying Monday that a decision to shift Sentinel sites farther from cities would virtually rule out any significant expansion of the system for years.

The President was believed to have reviewed such a move as one of several compromises to meet Senate criticism that the system would evolve into a much costlier project and to meet the criticism of local residents who fear accidental detonation of nuclear warheads.

Other local motorists who appeared before Judge Sterling Lamb or forfeited bonds to complete the weekend court docket were:

Richard E. Hickie, 20, New Holland; $24 bond forfeiture for driving 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Hubert Arnold Green, 38, New Holland; $29 bond forfeiture for driving 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Robert Strausbaugh, 45, Kingston, cited for driving 86 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone, was fined $34.

Walter T. Dyer, 42, of Route 3, Mt. Sterling; $24 bond forfeiture for failing to heed a stop sign.

Daniel R. Broughton, 19, of 364 E. Ohio St., was fined $15 and costs for not having safety chains from trailer to towing vehicle.

Dennis Logan, 54, Route 2, Ashville, charged with allowing an unproperly licensed minor to operate motor vehicle, was fined $50 and costs.

Charles A. Tarter, 26, of 216 N. Court St., was fined $15 and costs for driving 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Alfred A. Roberts, 28, of 1126 S. Court St., was cited by the sheriff's department for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and was fined $150 and costs. He was sentenced to three days in jail.

Gale Frederick Gloyd, 23, Route 2, Ashville, was fined $50 and costs for no operators' license.

William K. Chaffin, 23, of 268 Long St. in Ashville, was charged with giving false information to an officer regarding an accident. He was fined $50 and costs.

Board Explains Tax Requests

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following news release was prepared by the board of education to explain its actions in requesting a new 6.7 mill levy and renewal of 9.3 mills in existing tax levies.

The Circleville City Board of Education, following a comprehensive study and projection of needs, is taking the necessary action at this time to place an additional operating levy on the May ballot and to renew at the same time all present voted millage for current operating expenses on a continuous basis as provided for by current legislation.

The amount of the renewal is 9.3 mills and the amount of the proposed increase is 6.7 mills. The issues will appear on separate ballots in order that a distinction of the renewal and the additional levies can be clearly understood. A majority vote is necessary for each issue. The renewal levy is proposed in one package in order to place all present levies on a continuing basis and to prevent the necessity of renewal levies of small millage to appear on separate ballots in the future, which require added costs to the district and taxpayer. Each election costs the district approximately $2,000 and without present levies no school program could be provided. Approval of the renewal levy is necessary for operation of school next school year. Without approval, all state funds would be lost together with more than 25 per cent of local funds.

The additional levy is of major importance to provide a school program through the calendar year 1970 and beyond. In order to receive additional funds in 1970, the levy must be approved in 1969. The public is presented with the opportunity to meet the needs in time to prevent the magnitude of problems that will result without additional funds.

If the additional 6.7 mills is not approved in 1969 for 1970, the millage request by necessity will be raised because of lost revenue for the year 1970.

The Circleville City School District is one of many districts that either faced this necessity last November or face it now. Millage increases of considerable size are common place among school districts due to the effects of S.B. 350 passed by the 107th General Assembly, the general rising costs of living, competition for obtaining and retaining teaching staff, legislation which removes a agriculture from personal property tax base by 1972 and reduces certain merchants' personal property from 70 to 60 per cent by 1971, and the requirement to continue to improve educational opportunity in every way possible and practical.

Although continued improvements have been steady in the school system, the comparative data presently indicated a local financial effort well below the state average and a teaching salary schedule that needs improvement to be competitive even by conservative comparisons. A per pupil expenditure of $416.63 compared to a statewide average of $565.90 indicates the need for a greater local effort.

Efficiency, beyond reasonable expectation, has been practiced to permit operation at the present high level. Otherwise, it would have been impossible to operate schools with such a minimum income.

Many school districts recently approving additional operating funds had a higher tax rate before the additional funds were approved and a much higher expenditure per pupil than Circleville City. Forty-nine city school districts, all of which exceeded the present tax rate for current expense of the Circleville City Schools, passed additional levies in November, 1968. Thirty-nine of these will remain higher than Circleville even with an additional 6.7 mills approval.

Approval of the levy at the May Primary will save the taxpayer additional costs that will be necessary if the issue must be resubmitted at a future date since each election costs approximately $2,000. The need is evident and the issue must be approved in 1969 if continued school operation beyond the 1969-70 school year is to be insured.

City Schools

With the addition of the language unit at Atwater School only Nicholas Drive School remains in the city system without the units. The Nicholas Drive PTA had previously been asked if they would participate in the purchase of the equipment but declined, preferring to purchase other items.

Purchase of six microscopes for the elementary schools was approved by the board. Half of the purchase price of the microscopes, at $22.50 each, will be paid under Title III funds.

Rules for the Junior-Senior Prom were offered to the board for approval. The approved rules will be the same ones used last year.

Donald Metzler was reappointed by the board to coordinate the summer school project conducted with Title I federal funds. Metzler's salary, to be paid under the federal project is $1,100 for the six weeks.

PAUL Sarchet, high school principal, was granted permission to attend the North Central Assn. meeting in Chicago, Ill. March 23-28. The board will provide him with $200 to meet expenses.

Deductions from teachers' payrolls for the Washington National Insurance Income Protection Plan was accepted by the board. Teachers not wishing to have the deductions made do not have to participate in the program.

The appropriations for calendar year 1969 were approved by the board without discussion. The appropriation had been previously presented to the board in the fall.

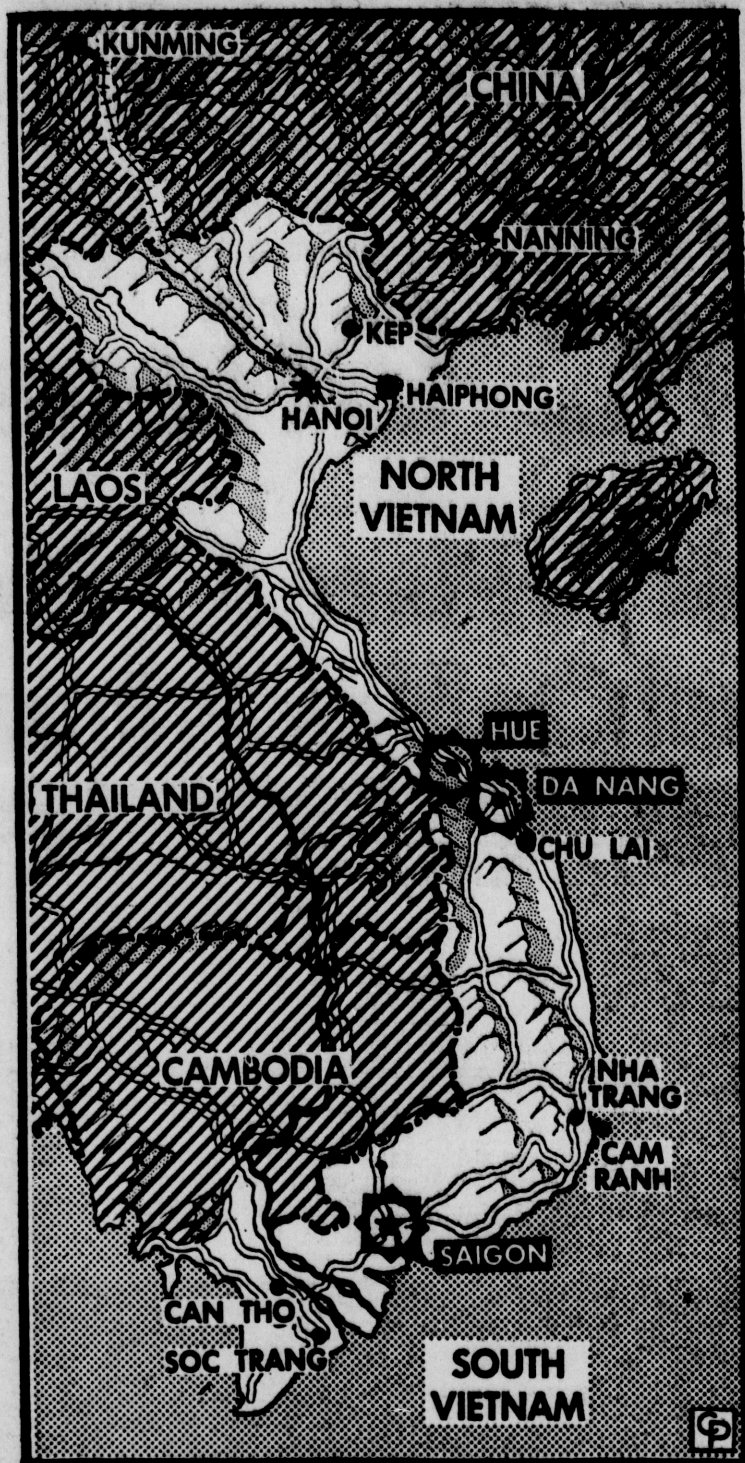

New substitute teachers approved by the board were Mrs. Helen Brown and Mrs. Mary Brown. Both women can teach on the elementary school level.

Equipment for the distributive education department was approved by the board. Half the $548 purchase price of the equipment will be provided by the State Vocational Education Department.

The equipment for the department includes one typewriter, one male and one female manikin.

A RESOLUTION recommended by the Ohio School Board Assn. was tabled by the local board for further consideration. The resolution, to be submitted to the state legislators, calls for creation of a county-wide income tax to provide income for the schools, raise in the allowance for children on the Aid to Dependent Children program and organization of area education back after two hours of pounding by gunship helicopters and artillery. Last Saturday, 15 enemy troops and 11 Americans were reported killed in an attack on the base.

Two miles farther north, other troops of the 1st Air Cavalry division backed by helicopter gunships reported killing 14 enemy soldiers without suffering any casualties. Fourteen miles to the south, more than 100 North Vietnamese troops attacked an armored cavalry unit of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division in night bivouacs. Tanks, armored personnel carriers and helicopter gunships raked the charging enemy, and U.S. headquarters reported 38 enemy soldiers killed with no American casualties.

Another 18 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed when dive-bombers and helicopter gunships caught them moving a mile from the Cambodian border, 63 miles north of Saigon.

Local Resident Attends School

Ted Sims, 404 E. Union St., has returned from a three weeks school at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colorado. Sims was attending the supply inspectors school at the air base.

While in Denver, Sims attended one pro basketball game and saw former Ohio State star Gary Braddis play for the Oakland Oaks against the Denver Rockets.

Sims visited with Sgt. Danny Martin who is stationed at Lowry Air Force Base. Sgt. Martin is the grandson of Jack Martin, 408 E. Union St. Sims is an inspector at Clinton County Air Force Base, Wilmington.

Young Not Worried By Glenn Bid

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says he is not worried by reports former astronaut John Glenn may seek his Senate seat in 1970 because Glenn "has no qualifications whatsoever to be a U.S. Senator."

"It's far too early for me to make a definite announcement on what I'll do in 1970," said the 79-year-old Young. But Glenn's interest in his Senate seat is "no interest to me," he said.

Young said "He (Glenn) was a good test pilot. A brave astronaut. He has no qualifications whatsoever to be a U.S. Senator."

Then he attacked Glenn's qualifications as if he was in the think of a political contest.

Young said Glenn, a native of New Concord, Ohio, voted for Richard M. Nixon for president in 1960, is not a resident of Ohio and did not vote in the Democratic primaries of 1964 and 1966.

He speculated Glenn could run as a Republican for the U.S. Senate in New York City, where he recently moved.

Young refused to speculate on his own political future. "At the moment," he said. "We don't know," he added, "whether our primary will be in April or August."

Several bills proposing to change the primary date are currently pending in the Ohio Legislature.

Young predicted the Sentinel antiballistic missile proposal would be defeated in the Senate by a close vote.

He said "It is perpetrated it could well be the most gigantic boondoggle ever put across on the American public."

Young said America's greatest defense was its powerful offense. He said the United States now has the capability of destroying every person in the Soviet Union.

"I see no reason to kill Russians twice," he said.

Young, in Ohio to appear on a Dayton television program, predicted U.S. troops would be brought home from Vietnam by December.

He said he expected between 100,000 and 200,000 troops to arrive earlier than that. A few weeks ago while in Akron he predicted they would be back by July.

He said he thought Nixon was doing "excellent" as President. Young at one time had called Nixon "politically dishonest."

He indicated, however, his attitude has changed since then. He said Nixon has done his homework and "He is my President now."

Nixon Confers With Solons; ABM Decision Said Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon called in Republican congressional leaders today amid indications a decision was imminent on deployment of the controversial Sentinel missile system (ABM).

There were some indications, too, as Nixon ended a three-day Florida stay Monday night that the decision he promised last week might be announced in a national radio-television appearance.

Nixon said at the outset of his Florida weekend that he would be spending his time studying the ABM and he spent his last day at Key Biscayne discussing it with Henry A. L. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs.

The President's options appeared to include delaying deployment of the $5-billion system still longer, perhaps until after disarmament talks can get started with the Soviets; cancel the project altogether; or go ahead with a modified version.

Pentagon officials were saying Monday that a decision to shift Sentinel sites farther from cities would virtually rule out any significant expansion of the system for years.

The President was believed to have reviewed such a move as one of several compromises to meet Senate criticism that the system would evolve into a much costlier project and to meet the criticism of local residents who fear accidental detonation of nuclear warheads.

The Sentinel system is comprised of two missiles—the Spartan, which is designed to intercept an incoming missile 400 to 500 miles out and the Sprint, designed to intercept at 30 to 40 miles.

Pentagon officials said putting the Spartan sites too far away from the cities would make it difficult and much more expensive to effectively add Sprints. New sites would have to be acquired for the Sprints closer to the cities.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Hasty Marriage One Long Misery

DEAR ABBY: Fifteen years ago when I became pregnant out of wedlock, I pleaded with the man responsible for my condition to marry me. He did, and I've regretted that day ever since.

My husband has never really accepted me or loved me or the son I gave him. He has mistreated us badly, and is still so cruel and critical of the boy that I fear one day he will run away from home.

I'm writing this letter in hopes it will prevent some young girl from making the mistake I made. Every boy needs a father, and much as I love my son, I'm not so sure he wouldn't have been better off had I put him up for adoption. Some good, responsible, childless couple who really wanted a baby could have given him the home and love he needed and deserved.

"REGRETS" DEAR REGRETS: Regret is the cancer of life. Quit punishing yourself. We have no way of knowing whether another course of action would have been better or worse. Many mothers (widows, for instance) have raised children without fathers and have had no regrets.

DEAR ABBY: Re that letter from the 19-year-old working girl who started giving a 53-year-old married co-worker a peck on the cheek in return for rides to and from work, and then had a terrible time getting him to stop after one kiss.

You told her, "Nothing is free. Find another way to get to and from work, or pay cash for your transportation. Also cut out the kissing and kiss off this old lecher for good."

Abby, in my opinion you overlooked an obvious fact. The girl was the aggressor, and this poor man might have interpreted her pecks on the cheek as an invitation. So why should HE be labeled "an old lecher" for trying to get more?

LEN DEAR LEN: If I overlooked anything, it was to say that little girls who are taught to pay off favors with kisses should unlearn that lesson before they get into serious trouble. A kiss is not always "just a kiss." It is sometimes only the beginning. And my apologies for calling the man an old lecher. Fifty-three is not old.

DEAR ABBY: May I have equal time to reply to the person who said he had more respect for the stay-at-home believer than the church-going hypocrite?

The church-going hypocrite should certainly continue going to church. At least he's in a good place for some Godliness to rub off on him.

Those of us who try to live our faith know the difference when we haven't been to church. We all need direction and inspiration to help us behave. Some think that as long as they don't steal, murder, or commit adultery they are "good" people. But there are plenty of things we do every day that are wrong

Old Building Where Kipling Worked To Be Demolished

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer
LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—

The building where Rudyard Kipling worked as a newspaperman and conceived his books is being torn down to make way for a modern office building.

For a century the building housed the English-language newspaper Civil and Military Gazette. It closed three years ago and now, with the disappearance of Kipling's old office, will go a major reminder of this writer who immortalized the India of the British Raj. Kipling edited the newspaper in the 1890s. The wide tree-lined main street called the Mall is much the same as when the author gazed from his office at the passing scene.

Negro Discrimination Shown By Residents

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Negroes from throughout the country meeting here Friday night were reminded that separation from the whites would not automatically end discrimination.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes cited the Lee-Seville area on the city's East Side where he said, Negroes do not want housing built near them for Negroes who are poor.

Yellow-topped Japanese Datsun taxicabs have replaced the rickshaws of Kipling's days, but the street still abounds with a variety of carts drawn by horses, donkeys, camels and oxen. Herdsmen move sheep and goats along the roadside.

Abdul Hamid Sheikh, a former editor of Kipling's newspaper, says:

"Apparently Kipling was an untidy person."

"He used to do his writing with an old-fashioned pen and he'd splash off all the surplus ink until he had the right amount. If you stood near him you were likely to get splashed."

"Also he was a bit lazy at times as editor of the paper. He was not above taking an old editorial from a back number and reprinting it in the current issue of the paper."

"When I was editor of the newspaper I would notice that bits of Kipling's desk used to disappear—a drawer one day, a piece of the desk top the next. I found an employee was selling it to visitors. There wasn't much left of the desk in the end."

Abdul Hamid said Kipling collected the folk tales for such works as "The Jungle Book" in Lahore and on his travels. He was fluent in the Punjabi language.

"He has never been very popular with the people he wrote about," Abdul Hamid observed.

"For instance his works are not studied in the schools here. There is little or nothing of his available in Urdu."

"That is the main language of Pakistan."

Many Pakistanis—and Indians too—feel that Kipling merely reflected the views of the ruling British and treated the locals in a patronizing way.

Attempts to find any of Kipling's books in local shops meet with blank stares.

Lapps in arctic regions traditionally try to improve the weather by speaking the names of seven bald men, then throwing salt into a camp fire. The men named must be completely bald, not a hair on their heads, or the magic won't work, says the National Geographic Society.

Can auto insurance costs go any other way?

When your 1965 car was brand-new, it would have cost about $390 to repair the damage from a rather typical accident. New bumper, hood, fender, headlight, and door.

In 1968—three years later—the same repair job would have cost $458. Same 1965 car, same new parts, same garage, same mechanic.

That's one reason your automobile insurance costs more these days. Repair bills keep getting higher.

*Naturally, a comparable repair job on a '68 model would probably cost much more, because newer cars are more likely to have complicated features such as disappearing headlights, power windows, air-conditioning and other modern accessories!

There are variances, of course. They depend on the kind of car, the parts to be replaced, and the garage that does the work. But on an average, the cost of replacement parts has increased 15% since 1965. The average hourly charge for garage labor in Ohio has increased 19% in the same period.

And, according to published reports of Washington hearings, the cost of parts and garage labor have both increased about 50% since 1960.

Higher prices are characteristic of inflation. But they're only part of the problem. Repair bills are not only higher, there are more of them. Traffic accidents in Ohio have been increasing at the rate of 8% per year. And accidents are what your insurance dollars pay for.

With accidents increasing faster than the number of cars on the road, and with the average accident producing bigger losses each year, the cost of automobile insurance has no way to go but up.

It's easy to point to Detroit (safer cars could help some); or to the government and say we need better roads and highways. It's harder to point at a friend or someone in your own family—the one who ignores the speed limits, who keeps trying to beat the red lights, who laughs about a traffic ticket, or who drives when he probably should be driven. But isn't that where it all begins?

Boy Shoots Dad; Ruled 'Justifiable'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 12-year-old boy fatally shot his father during a domestic quarrel at the family's home Monday night, police reported.

The victim, John F. Latham, 39, died as a result of a chest wound inflicted from a 20-gauge shotgun.

Latham, according to police, grabbed a kitchen knife and threatened his 37-year-old wife, Gloria.

Police said a son, John, then shot his father.

Police issued a tentative ruling of justifiable homicide.

There Was An Arthur

Was King Arthur for real? Although the legend of Arthur and his knights of the round table admittedly is an ancient and romantic one, there are many scholars who find little substance on which to credit the legend with much fact.

Leslie Alcock, an archeologist at University College, Cardiff, Wales, says he has proof of Arthur's existence, although possibly not in the form most persons picture. Alcock is director of excavations for the site presumably used as Arthur's sixth century headquarters.

One of the pieces of evidence Alcock has come across which convinces him of Arthur's existence is a sixth century church calendar, on which monks kept account of Easter from year to year. They also made other entries.

Under the date A.D. 516 is a notation about Britons under Arthur shipping the Anglo-Saxons in battle. Under the date A. D. 536 is an account of Arthur's death.

There is only one thing wrong with the legend, as Alcock reconstructs it. Arthur wasn't a king; he was a leader of a gang of mercenaries. And he didn't wear shining armor. Most likely his costume consisted of a helmet, leather tunic and pleated skirt.

Most romanticists are bound to stick with the legend.

A Braver Fed

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board has confessed to a congressional committee that the art of economics does not permit precision. One consequence is a credibility gap that has developed over the board's capacity and willingness to apply credit restraints.

"There's no question," Mr. Martin has conceded to the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, "that we were too expansionary last fall."

Mr. Martin has duly apologized for the past. For the remainder of this year he has promised the Federal Reserve "means business" about keeping credit tight. Thus interest rates probably will remain at their current historic highs for the remainder of 1969.

Mr. Martin hopes to achieve "disinflation," which would not necessarily reduce prices but might cut down the rate of their rise. This is a good trick, never before done too successfully.

Mr. Martin professes to see gains in the battle against inflation that are not clearly evident to all who have to pay the bills. It's not necessary to have a Ph.D. in economics to know that thus far there has been little or no effect on price tags which seem to be continually revised upward.

Shultz Is No Innocent

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz seems to be something of a political innocent. Only ignorance of the nuances of politics can explain the Secretary's notion that in clearing his major appointments with liberal Senator Jacob Javits, he could afford to ignore conservative and middle-road members of the Senate Labor Committee such as Paul Fannin of Arizona and Robert Griffin of Michigan. But if Secretary Shultz hasn't yet learned the ins and outs of getting along with Capitol Hill, his training in basic economics is somewhat better.

Thus he deserves high praise for realism for his statement that the $1.60-an-hour minimum wage should be allowed to stand for a while before the AFL-CIO drive for a $2 compulsory minimum is encouraged. Shultz happens to come from the University of Chicago, which has carried out some of the most sophisticated investigations of the effects of past minimum wage increases on employment. In calling Labor boss George Meany's attention to the probably impact of a $2 mandatory pay floor on the employment rate among teen-agers and in the slums, Shultz is not simply taking a knee-jerk "reactionary" line. He has a considerable body of fact to show that a high minimum wage not only works to limit apprenticeship and in-plant training, which is something that labor monopolists might cynically welcome, but also leads to the substitution of automatic machines for men, which is a phenomenon that no AFL-CIO leader can like at all.

The particular University of Chicago economist who has made such voluminous studies of minimum wage increases is Professor Yale Brozen. No enemy of a high wage economy, Brozen still thinks that every raise in the statutory mandatory pay floor should be geared to increases in the productivity of apprentices. Brozen talks of "digestion," which is the concept that Secretary Shultz urged on AFL-CIO President Meany.

According to Brozen's charts, the incidence of teen-age unemployment went up every time the minimum wage floor was hiked throughout the decade of the Sixties. Adolescent joblessness after the 1961 pay increase rose by a mere fraction over general unemployment. But the effect of the 1964 wage jump was really serious: teen-age unemployment rose then to 3.4 times the general unemployment. Brozen, testifying before various Congressional committees, has called this an "unprecedented" level. Moreover, the hardship on Negro adolescents has been even more marked. For after each increase in the compulsory wage floor white boys and girls have tended to receive most of the available apprentice jobs. This has not been due to color discrimination by personnel directors; it has happened because the educational level of the white applicant is, on the average, a bit better.

The validity of Brozen's University of Chicago studies is confirmed by the continuous field survey conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business, which has the largest individual membership of any such organization in the U.S. The most recent Federation statistics show that twenty-eight percent of all independent firms firing workers gave the minimum wage as the reason. The indicated job loss mentioned by the Federation totaled more than a million, with many of the firings coming in the ranks of the aged and the handicapped.

The "non-statistical" corollary of the figures for firings due to the inability of the oldsters to earn the minimum wage is a general failure on the part of independent businesses to give the jobs to teen-age apprentices. Said one respondent to a National Federation of Independent Business query: "Up until three or four years ago we used to take one-to-three trainees out of the high school . . . but . . . the wage-hour people came in and checked our books and accused us of everything under the sun . . . that we were working slave labor . . . it changed our attitude entirely for the use of any such trainees."

Inflation, of course, is one way of providing for the "digestion" of mandatory minimum wage increases. But this is a price that few of us, the AFL-CIO labor force included, can continue to afford. Secretary Shultz had better go to the mat with the AFL-CIO's hierarchy on the general subject of the University of Chicago minimum wage law studies.

Employment Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment rose substantially for the fifth straight month to 76.2 million in February and unemployment remained at a 15-year low of 3.3 per cent, the Labor Department said today.

"It occurred in almost all the industries," Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said of the employment increase totaling 380,000 last month.

The total of Americans at work had risen 1.6 million in the last five months, twice the rate of growth in the first nine months of last year, Goldstein said.

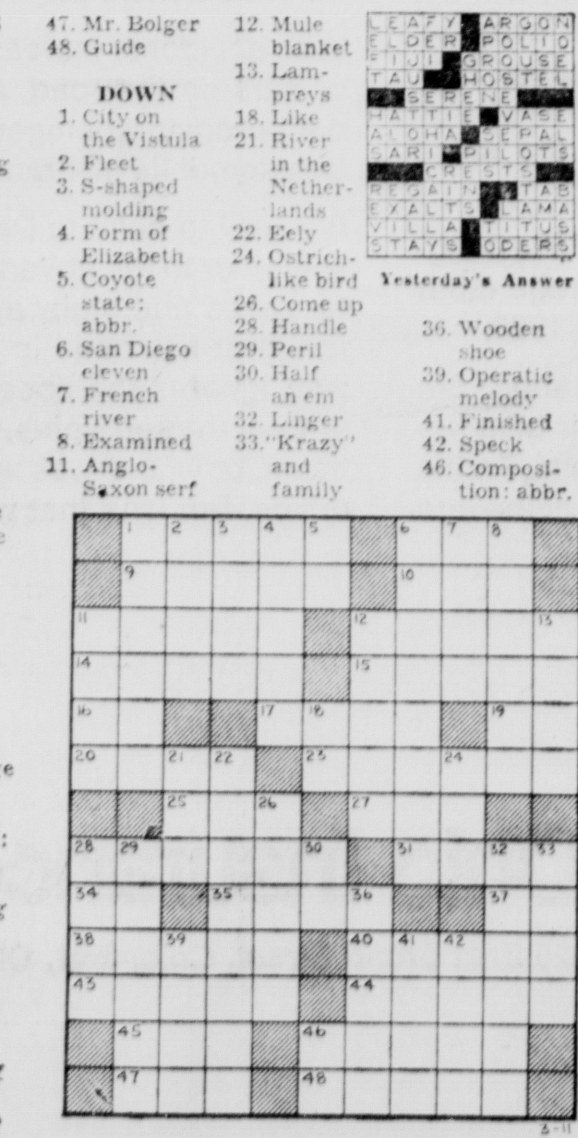

The total employment figure of 76.2 million is an all-time high after adjustment for seasonal factors, he said.

The total of unemployed in February was 2.9 million. About one-fourth of them were seeking only part time jobs.

"Oh, stop getting tough with that taxi driver who insulted you and come to bed!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IF AN UNDERGRADUATE newspaper in a Texas college town can be believed, the dean, icily polite, accosted his wife one morning with "My shaving brush, as you may perceive, is quite stiff. Do you, by some wild chance, know the cause thereof?" "Certainly not," replied his wife spiritedly. "It was quite nice and soft when I varnished the bird cage with it yesterday."

In the 1930's Jack Douglas was doing monologues at the Chicago World's Fair, and attracted the attention of a then-rising young radio star named Bob Hope. "Can you write jokes?" asked Mr. Hope. "For how much?" asked Mr. Douglas. "For fifty dollars a week," suggested Mr. Hope. "I'm afraid not," frowned Mr. Douglas, "but for SIXTY dollars a week I'd be terrific." He supplied material to Mr. Hope steadily for many years thereafter.

Today Douglas is a top-ranking humorist. His latest book, "The Neighbors Are Scaring My Wolf," is a solid best-seller. He lives with his family so far out in the sticks that he says "It takes an hour and a half to drive my son to the school BUS!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

There is a history of twins in our family and, as a young couple starting a career and a family, we are really concerned about the possibility of having twins. What are the chances that this may occur?

Mrs. N. E. L. Kansas Dear Mrs. L.: Before the use of drugs for fertility and for contraception, the mathematical chances of twin births was about 1 in 100 births. Now the chances have been altered. When there is a history of twins on both sides of the family the possibilities are, of course, increased.

If you were to ask any young couple who have been fortunate enough to have twins, they would tell you of the multiple joys of multiple births. They would also encourage you in the hope that this would occur, and free you from any anxiety about it. Although this may not be of interest to you at this time, perhaps you and my readers would like to know the differences between identical and fraternal twins when they do occur.

Fraternal twins develop from two different eggs — or ova. Such twins may resemble each other no more than any brother or sister. Identical twins are formed from a single egg — or ovum. These twins are identical in appearance and so often seem to be identical in their emotional and intellectual growth. Identical twins are always of the same sex and occur somewhat less frequently than fraternal twins. There is truly great joy when a family begins with twins. The possibility should be anticipated with pleasure rather than with anxiety.

Our fourteen-year-old child has been acting up in class and the school psychologist believes that he should be tested to find out why he behaves as he does. We feel that this is unnecessary. Can you suggest another way?

Mr. T. B. O. Michigan Dear Mr. O.: I never did quite understand why perfectly mature and adult parents take it as a personal insult when it is suggested that their child needs psychological testing or guidance. I am sure that you would not hesitate for a moment to follow the instructions of a doctor who suggested that you X-ray your boy's chest in order to make a diagnosis. This, in essence, is all that is being suggested by a battery of psychological tests. There is no substitute for them.

It is astonishing how much a trained psychologist can learn from these studies and how readily your child can benefit from simple remedial suggestions that then would be forthcoming. If there is a hidden reason for a strange behavior problem, you will do your child great benefit by following such a testing program. Remember, it is no shame to have a small or large emotional problem.

Is heat better than cold for bursitis of the shoulder? I have it and am miserable.

Mr. J. W. Maine Dear Mr. W.: As a physician and a fellow sufferer, I have found cold — and only cold — to be helpful. However, ask your doctor. He knows you best.

The Cuban government is experimenting with ducks to devour a parasite that annually destroys about 10 per cent of the island republic's tobacco crop. If the scheme works we'll admit it was a quacking good idea.

Tasmania has asked the U.S. for a piece of the Moon — when and if our astronauts get there — to be placed in its museum where, no doubt, it would be a star attraction.

A Pennsylvania firm reports it has imported and sold 750 million clothespins in the last 20 years. Sounds like a good line to be in.

In Bolton, England, a burglar wiggled free when owners of the house grabbed him but he left behind his raincoat, jacket, shirt and undershirt. He made his escape all right — but just barely!

A Wichita, Kan., husband and wife are the proud possessors of 100 awards for their skill at archery. Just a couple of hot shots?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — You must avoid using the word "consumer" in a certain way to certain people. To some listeners it has a negative sound, soured by congressional inquiries and tainted with unpleasant political overtones.

The question was asked: "How do premiums benefit the consumer?" The reaction was immediate: "Don't say 'consumer.' It's 'customer.'" The speaker was William Battle, president of the Premium Advertising Association of America.

Battles dislike of the word is apparently shared by many marketing men who have come to associate it with complaints about products or services or packaging or other aspects of product presentation and sale.

Reaching behind his desk, Battle pulled out "Mrs. Customer," a little essay he composed on the subject. "There is a finality associated with the word 'consume' and 'consumer,'" it began. Fire, for instance, consumes.

"But 'custom' denotes something done for a purpose; it is something prepared—'built to order' for someone; it demands an awareness of wants and a desire—and the ability—to satisfy them . . .

"Our prime concern," Battle wrote, "is our customers. How they consume our customized preparations is our customer's concern."

With that out of the way, the question again was asked. Premiums, Battle suggested, benefit the customer in many ways, including these:

— They entice a customer to buy a product she might enjoy and continue using but which she might never have tried without the incentive of a premium.

— Premiums have value in themselves. Some of them are worth only a few cents, but some premiums are as large and costly as television sets or even automobiles.

— They add glamor to shopping.

What appears to be considered by PAAA as the ultimate proof of premium acceptance is the strong growth of the industry from less than $1 billion 20 years ago to as much as $4 billion now.

These multibillion-dollar estimates are for the total of goods won or earned or given away as premiums. They include prizes won or earned or given away as tests and those given to shopkeepers for stocking certain products.

But a large part of the total represents the items collected by shoppers for buying certain products for expressing interest in them. And they were awarded in a surprising number of ways:

— In sweepstakes and contests. A sweepstakes involves no more skill than it takes to match a number you receive in the mail with a list on the storekeeper's wall. A contest involves skill, such as "answering in 25 words . . ."

— As in-pack items, such as glassware in the soap box. Some premium people claim as much as 15 per cent of all glassware manufactured in a year is distributed as premiums.

— As on-pack items, such as another can of coffee taped to the one being bought.

— As factory packs, such as the reusable pail that packages the detergent, or the plastic toy that contains a bubble bath for babies.

— Mail-in offers. Typically these involve money and a box-top, or a facsimile of a company's trademark. Battle claims that premiums distributed in this manner cost housewives only 46.5 per cent of the retail price.

— Redemption of coupons, commonly distributed through the mail or printed in advertisements.

— Trading stamp redemptions. The PAAA people claim $1 billion a year in premiums are distributed in this manner.

The business grows, Battle reminds a listener. It thrives despite criticism. It doesn't matter that some housewives participate in the premium offers out of a sense of necessity or even that they may dislike them.

Evidence of the industry's ability to command the best is the fact that the annual PAAA marketing conference next month will be in the grand and stylish Philharmonic Hall.

The premium for those attending, said Battle, is a free continental breakfast.

Capitol Memo

By CHALMERS P. WYLIE
Congressman, 15th District
Last week I joined with several co-sponsors in introducing legislation for the control of pornography. This is a problem about which many parents have written me, and I share their concern.

Specifically, the proposed legislation would make it unlawful for any person knowingly to sell, offer for sale, loan, deliver, distribute, or provide for any minor any photo, publication, or other item "designed primarily to appeal to the viewer's prurient interests."

The bill includes detailed definitions of the various materials prohibited, then provides that neither courts of appeals nor Supreme Court will have jurisdiction to review local court interpretations as to whether or not items involved in litigation come within the definitions of the statute.

Offenses are punishable by fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for five years, either or both, for a first offense, to be doubled for each successive conviction. The Post Office Department informs me that it received 168,000 complaints last year relating to pornography mostly from parents of minor children.

Continuation of half-price air fare for military personnel, students and children is requested in another resolution which I co-sponsored last week. Such cut-price rates have been available, but the Civil Aeronautics Board now proposes to discontinue them.

Since the reduced rates are available only on standby basis for seats which otherwise would be empty, I believe both the airlines and the customers to be beneficiaries of such an arrangement.

For military men on limited pay, this is a deserved courtesy. For children and students, it offers expanded cultural opportunities through travel not otherwise possible for many of them.

Many constituents are unduly alarmed in writing to ask that Congress not take action to remove the word "God" from a forthcoming commemorative stamp honoring the Apollo 8 astronauts and the pledge of allegiance, as well as elimination from coins of the phrase, "In God We Trust."

I am very sure none of these steps will be considered seriously by this Congress. The Post Office has just reaffirmed its plans to include the word, "In the Beginning God—" on the stamp honoring the astronauts, as a reminder of their historic Christmas Eve reading from the Bible.

Many constituents also have written in approval of my action in the House and that of Senator Everett Dirksen in the Senate, toward restoration of the right of prayer in public buildings, including schools.

Mention just about any subject of current national or international concern and you will find some committee of House, Senate, or both, now holding hearings on that problem. The new Administration also is engaged in special studies, and helpful recommendations should be forthcoming soon.

Among current subjects under committee consideration are tax reform, changes in the system of electing president and vice president, Pueblo capture, coal mine safety, stock market, water pollution, anti-ballistic missile system, juvenile delinquency, implications of the oil leak at Santa Barbara, federal assistance to elementary and secondary schools, auto insurance, U.S. participation in the International Development Association, debt ceiling, consumer credit regulation, and school lunch programs.

As a result of these heavy committee schedules, sessions of House and Senate were abbreviated last week.

To help members with a better understanding of foreign policy, the Department of State held a briefing Wednesday morning. The speaker was Alex Johnson, under-secretary for political affairs. Such briefings held almost weekly last year were a great help to me and others in the House.

Delegations from three Ohio groups have been welcome visitors to my Washington office the past week. These include Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled War Veterans, and Ohio Bankers Association.

Visitors, both groups and individuals, are invited and welcome. When I am not available, my staff will be pleased to greet visitors, help with Washington arrangements, and receive messages for me.

Rhodes Gets NAB Invite

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today that President Nixon has invited him to attend the 2nd annual national conference of the National Alliance of Businessmen.

The meeting, which opens Saturday in Washington, will be attended by members of Nixon's cabinet, governors, mayors of large cities, corporation executives and union leaders.

They have been invited to meet with the alliance's board of directors.

The alliance was formed to provide jobs for hard-core unemployed and summer work for needy youth.

"I am now asking the alliance to intensify its effort during the coming year," Nixon told Rhodes in his invitation.

NEW YORK (AP) — Television turned its attention Monday night to the older segment of the audience and it is not certain the oldsters were very happy about it.

"Laugh-In" saluted the organized golden-agers and "Mayberry, RFD" had an episode illustrating what a bore a fellow can be if he retires and doesn't have enough to do.

Governor Eyes Investigation Of 'Black Lung'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes demanded Monday an investigation of the "black lung" disease among Ohio coal miners.

"I want to know if our present Ohio laws are adequate with respect to this health problem of miners," Rhodes said.

"Black lung" disease—or pneumoconiosis—is prevalent among miners exposed to excessive coal dust.

A raging controversy over alleged lack of protection against the disease in West Virginia recently led to a walkout by miners there.

Donn F. Eisele Faces Divorce

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Donn F. Eisele, wife of the astronaut who flew on Apollo 7, has filed suit for divorce, charging mental cruelty.

Eisele, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, spent 10 days in earth orbit on the flight in October.

The suit filed in domestic relations court Monday said the couple had been estranged since Jan. 4. They were married in December 1958, and have three children.

Seek More Powers For DIR Probers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature is in for some pressure from the Ohio State Building Trades Council to give more power to the Department of Industrial Relations.

According to Marty Graham of Cleveland, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO, Ohio now has one of the best industrial relations programs in the country but its investigative powers are weak.

Cuyahoga County Adopts Sales Tax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An additional one-half of one percent sales tax, expected to bring in an additional $12.5 to $15 million, has been adopted by the Cuyahoga County commissioners, effective June 1, bringing the sales tax for county residents to 4½ per cent.

Frank R. Pokorny, president of the commissioners, said of Monday's action: "The county has no other way to go" for needed additional revenue.

Matching Hairstyles Seen For Women, Modern Men

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The scene backstage at the annual hairstyle show here was just a little bit confusing.

The models, as usual, were busy with final touches—a bit of spray here, a bit of teasing there.

There was only one catch. Half the models were men.

Once men began letting their locks grow long, it was only a matter of time before they began getting coiffures—instead of cuts—from stylists—instead of barbers.

And time ran out Monday. Hairdressers from around the country joined in presenting a "unisex" show—matching his and her hairdos and costumes. Women worried about being eclipsed by their peacock-like mates can take some consolation from the fact that most of the hairdressers admitted they designed the girl's coiffure first, then tried to adapt it for the male model.

There were three basic silhouettes for women this spring: —The "Coco Chanel," reminiscent of the 1930's, featuring soft, full curls around the face, medium length hair and a smooth crown. Variations included center parts, a wave over one eye or all-over curls. —The chignon, shown for both day and evening, with the bun low on the back of the head. For evening, it was dressed up with tendrils curls around the face or narrow, false braids attached to the bun.

—The long, loose look with hair cascading to the shoulders and below. This style frequently was made more bouffant with the addition of a fall.

Among the matching styles: —The "page boy" with hair cut to just below the ears and turned under loosely. The male and female model each displayed this look wearing bangs almost to the eyes. —The "curly head" with curls scattered all over the scalp. The girl's style featured soft, ringlet-like curls. The boy's had tighter curls, styled with a curling iron. —The "French bowl" look with the hair brought forward over the forehead almost to the eyes. The female model looked like Sir Galahad; the male like a shaggy dog.

The matched hairstyles did provide some problems. "I couldn't get his hair long enough," said one hairdresser despairingly, as she tugged at the page boy coiffure of a young man.

Piano May Be The Key To Close 'Music Gap'

By ELEANOR ROSS
Music is one area where the generation gap is really wide. Some parents are almost in despair as they listen to the music that their youngsters just do on. To the older folk, it sounds like endless caterwaulings, shrieks, blasts, moans, groans, often with unintelligible lyrics.

Music experts insist parents should not prohibit their children from listening to even the most outlandish popular music crazes. Young tastes will change.

making piano lessons seem like fun.

Properly Placed
Give the piano good care. Have it properly placed away from radiators and strong air currents. Keep it properly tuned.

Shiny and handsome, your piano is a showpiece in your home even when it stands silent.

And that's as good a note as any to end this recital.

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTRETE, an alkaline (not acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates. Keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, gooey taste or feeling. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTRETE at all drug counters.

Parental Procedure
The thing for parents to do is to see that their children are also exposed to good music, semi-classical and classical. A record player or, better still, a piano is a wonderful way to have good music play a role in the development of a child's musical taste. However you do it, play good music in your home without calling your child's attention to it. If parents develop, cultivate and enjoy a taste for good music, it is bound to influence the child. And it's a wise parent who doesn't lecture a child on the merits of good music and the "evils" of pop stuff. Many of our leading musicians enjoy popular music, including conductor Leonard Bernstein, who was one of the first to champion the Beatles.

Girl Scout Council Provides Many Camping Opportunities

CAMP MISKA — Girl Scout Camp Miska in Salt Creek Twp. is one of many camping areas maintained in central Ohio by the Girl Scout Council.

Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council maintains 12 camping areas with 32 individual troop camp sites to serve the girls in the 16-county area including Pickaway County.

Sites are available throughout the year for day outings and for troop camping, and during the summer months, many are used for Day Camp and Established Camp sessions.

All sites have a central lodge supplied with outdoor cooking and housekeeping equipment. Many are also equipped with platform tents, cots, dishes and silverware, picnic tables and covered eating and outdoor cooking areas.

The Council also maintains a stock of tents, canoes and patrol cooking equipment which may be requisitioned by troops to use for primitive camping at these or at non-Council operated sites.

During the past year, 208 girls from Pickaway County have participated in troop camping trips, 148 have attended Day Camp and 31 have attended Established Camp sessions.

Funds to equip and maintain these camp sites came primarily from profits from the sale of Girl Scout Cookies and Calendars and from United Fund allotments and private contributions.

South Central Elks Meeting Is Scheduled

Circleville BPO Elks Lodge 77 will be represented at the South Central District of the Ohio Elks Assn. meeting Saturday and Sunday at Athens Lodge.

The meeting is the annual initiation of the district. The performing officers will be the winners of the District Ritualistic Contest held at Newark Jan. 17-18. Ten candidates are to be initiated.

There will also be nominations for District Officers and Committee Chairman at this meeting for the year 1969-1970.

The South Central District is comprised of 13 Lodges: Athens, Chillicothe, Circleville, Columbus, Gallipolis, Ironton, Jackson, Lancaster, Marysville, Nelsonville, Newark, New Lexington and Portsmouth. Delegates from each lodge will attend this meeting.

Registration for the week-end affair will begin at noon on Saturday in the lodge club rooms. A dance is scheduled Saturday evening from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The business sessions will be held Sunday starting at 10 a.m. with the main business meeting scheduled for 2 p.m. During the afternoon business meeting, a party will be held for the ladies. A social hour will follow the business meeting with a buffet dinner being served at 5 p.m.

Optometrist Attends Vision Conference

Dr. David L. Smith attended the 22nd Annual School Vision Forum and Reading Conference held March 7 and 8 in Cleveland.

The program featured specialists known throughout the United States on the problems of the child with learning disabilities.

Emphasis was placed on the importance of understanding a child's capabilities and then teaching based on a task analysis of the subject to be taught. The meetings were attended by educators, psychologists, nurses and optometrists from throughout Ohio.

25,000 Trees To Be Planted In County

Approximately 25,000 tree seedlings for spring planting will be delivered to Pickaway County on March 20, according to I. I. Dickman, Chief of the Ohio Division of Forestry and Reclamation.

These seedlings will reforest 35,71 acres of idle lands in the county. It is expected that more than fifteen million seedlings will be planted in Ohio this year and these will reforest some 21,000 acres of otherwise unproductive lands.

Seedlings may still be obtained for planting by calling at the nurseries or by parcel post shipment. To order trees now, contact your local Service Forester or your nearest District Office of the Division of Forestry and Reclamation and you will be advised of the steps to follow.

Laurel Hills Church Schedules Revival

Laurel Hills United Methodist Church in Laurelville has scheduled a revival beginning Sunday and continuing through March 23. Services will begin each evening at 7:30.

Judge Budge Named To Head SEC

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — He is called the "Judge" and the title says a lot about the style of Hamer H. Budge, new boss of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The quiet, closed-mouth, judicial way of doing business used by the 58-year-old former Idaho congressman puts him in sharp contrast to his old friend and predecessor, Manuel F. Cohen, who resigned last month under pressure from President Nixon.

But the new chairman, who was elevated to the job after serving as an SEC member since 1964, says there won't be major changes in the policy of the commission, which was criticized by Nixon during the presidential campaign as "heavy handed."

While refusing to comment on the Nixon charges, Budge said "I think the SEC will continue to do its job just as it has in the past," he said in an interview.

And so do his subordinates, many of whom admit they will miss the stormy weather that seemed to mark the Cohen years.

"Nixon has picked a man who's 110 per cent behind our enforcement programs," one attorney said.

"Judge Budge is very enforcement minded," he added. "I don't think it would be right to say the President has picked him with the idea he'll lay low or go light on the industry."

At the same time, observers figure Budge to be less an innovator than Cohen, who kept Wall Street constantly on edge.

While Budge spent only three years in his pre-SEC days as a federal judge, compared with a full decade as Republican congressman from Idaho, the time on the bench seems to have left the more lasting mark.

"When he sits there," an SEC official said, "he looks like a judge. Think like one too. He does a good job of getting right to the heart of something with a single question."

Another Budge-watcher said there need be no concern about the new chairman, so long as he is faced with courses of action where the law indicates what must be done.

"He tends to be rather a purist on the law, it seemed to me," he said. "If the law says A plus B equals C then it doesn't matter how activist or nonactivist the judge is. He'll do what the law says and nothing will keep him from it."

While Budge likes to keep his opinion to himself, he expresses concern about giantism in American business.

"Too great a concentration of power—this is my own personal philosophy now, doesn't have anything to do with the SEC—is always something which should be watched," he said.

"I don't care if it's in the government, in private industry, the banking industry or the securities industry."

"The basic role of the SEC is to see to it to the best of its ability that the securities market places are honest and efficient," Budge said, "and that the products—the securities—marketed in those places are honest products."

Norwegian To Perform At Lithopolis

The Wagnalls Memorial, Lithopolis, will present a concert by Mr. Harald Tolsen, baritone singer and pianist from Norway March 23, at 2:30 p.m. Admission will be free through the courtesy of the Board of Trustees.

Tolsen is a dedicated artist. Born in Kristiansand, Norway, Tolsen began piano and voice at an early age. As a boy he sang in his home church. In 1961 he moved to Oslo where he entered the insurance business. His interest in music soon gained priority, however, and he continued voice cultures at Muikkonservatoriet. He became music director of a 70-member youth group in one of the largest churches in Oslo.

He came to the United States in 1965 and has since given concerts in many parts of this country as well as the Far East.

In the fall of 1968 he toured the world, singing at military bases and hospitals, on college campuses and in high schools in such places as Hawaii, Australia, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

Tolsen sings in four languages and has a varied repertoire, usually allowing the opportunity for request numbers.

Percy Opposes Any Deployment Of ABM System

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Charles F. Percy of Illinois could find nothing right and everything wrong with the Nixon administration's proposed antiballistic missile (ABM) system while talking to newsmen here Monday night.

The ABM is "militarily, economically, psychologically and diplomatically wrong," said Percy.

Percy, here to address the National Alliance of Businessmen, said the Sentinel missile system "would only cause disunity in our country in a time when we need unity."

The senator said he would vote against any ABM proposal in the Senate and predicted President Nixon would have to present "overwhelming" reasons in favor of the system to win Senate approval for its construction.

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

Q Just what is a heat pump and how does it work?

A A heat pump is a refrigeration machine which, by automatically reversing itself, heats as well as cools. It is a single unit that uses only air and electricity (just like your electric refrigerator)—no fuel, no water.

Q What makes it different from other year 'round air conditioners?

A Principally this — the heat pump is all-electric. It cools without water and heats without burning fuel of any kind!... makes efficient use of electricity only. It is a dream of electrical living come true—clean, convenient and safe.

Q Is the heat pump truly automatic?

A YES! Set the automatic thermostat to your liking, air conditioning comes automatically, no matter what the season. You don't even have to flip any switches. Switchover between heating and cooling is completely automatic—from season to season, within the same day, or even hourly. On a cold morning, for example, you'll get heating. But if the weather should suddenly turn uncomfortably warm after the sun comes out, your heat pump will reverse itself... to provide cool comfort automatically.

Q Will the heat pump make a difference in the way we live and work?

A It certainly will! Here are only a few of the benefits you will enjoy with a heat pump. Comfort... air at just the right temperature—filtered and clean—gently circulated the whole year 'round. Cleanliness... reduces dirt, dust and odor contamination. Convenience... one thermostat setting maintains the desired temperature range—automatically—all year long. Safety... no flame to worry about. Investment... boosts property value and protects investment over the years.

Q How big an area will a heat pump cool and heat?

A Of course, the type of construction is important here... such factors as insulation, glass area, shading, and so forth. However, heat pump models are available, that will cool and heat homes of five to eight rooms and larger. For industry, heat pumps meet exacting commercial customer needs... either singly or in multiples to provide complete, customized, zone-by-zone comfort wherever it is needed.

Mary Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sealock Sr. of Orient.

Mary Beth is enrolled in the business course. Her favorite subjects are American government and bookkeeping.

Her hobbies include swimming and water skiing. Mary's extracurricular activities include Business Club and Intramurals.

After graduation Mary plans to attend a business school and obtain a job.

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kunke of Route 4.

Kevin is enrolled in the general course at Teays Valley. His favorite subject is architectural drafting. After graduation he plans to attend Columbus Drafting College.

Kevin's extracurricular activities include track and cross country. His hobbies are hunting, archery and running.

Linda Karr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Karr of Route 1, Orient.

Linda is enrolled in the business course in high school and plans to do secretarial work after graduation.

Linda's favorite subject is American government.

Her hobbies are riding horses and sewing.

Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bastian, 175 E. Main St., Ashville.

He is enrolled in the college prep course. His favorite subject is American government.

Rhodes To Speak On New Legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes will talk tonight on "Legislation for Education" in an address to the 31st Annual Convention of the Ohio Federation of Teachers here. About 130 representatives from 34 federation locals are attending the three-day convention at the Neil House which opened Monday.

Teays Valley Club Feature

By CLARA SHELL

Business Club meets on the fourth Thursday of each month. There are 48 members in the club.

The officers are Billie Shelton, president; Brenda Bidwell, vice president; Marilyn Barr, secretary; Diane Cook, treasurer; Helen Spiess, extension officer and Vicki Nance, news reporter.

The club advisors are Mrs. Ruth Galate and Mrs. Rosemary Stiteler.

Purpose of the club is to give members a better understanding of the business world. This year the club has had several guest speakers from different businesses.

Each year the club sponsors a money-making project. This year's project is selling candy bars.

Business Club Holds Meeting

By BILLIE SHELTON

The Teays Valley Business Club met Feb. 27.

Dues were to be paid by this meeting, and candy money was to be turned in. After a short business meeting Mrs. Ruth Malone from Merle Norman gave a demonstration on applying make-up.

A committee was appointed for next month's meeting. Wanda Lou Peters was appointed chairman with all sophomores on the committee.

Supreme Court Says Newspaper Combine Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that a joint operating agreement between the two daily newspapers in Tucson, Ariz., is illegal "beyond peradventure of doubt."

Justice William O. Douglas, speaking for the court, said pooling of profits to a fixed ratio and an agreement not to engage in Pima County clearly violate antitrust law.

Moreover, he said the joint agreement could not be justified on the theory that it was necessary to save a failing company, the Tucson Daily Citizen.

He said the evidence sustains the finding of a federal district court judge that in 1940, when the agreement was reached with operators of the Arizona Daily Star the company that publishes the Daily Citizen was not on the verge of going out of business.

Cecilia Behr Is Exchange Student

By BARR LEMASTER

Teays Valley's new exchange student is Cecilia Behr, from Ecuador. She arrived Feb. 7 and will stay until sometime in June.

CECILIA BEHR

She is living with the Dick Pobst family of Route 1, Ashville. Although they do not know each other's languages very well, they can communicate with each other. They use sign languages and pictures.

Cecilia is 17 years old and has graduated from high school in Ecuador. She was the football queen this past year. She plans to go to college and become a psychiatrist.

Cecilia finds America quite different from her own country in many ways.

The schools in Ecuador are not like our schools. The students do not choose their subjects. The girls do not participate in any sports.

Cecilia remarked that she thinks there is a great deal more discipline in Ecuador than in America.

Cecilia also mentioned the difference in relationships between the opposite sexes. In Ecuador the teenagers do not date as we are accustomed to doing. They are always in groups.

A couple does not go out alone, or without the parents, until they are officially engaged to be married.

When asked what she liked best about our country, Cecilia smiled and said, "The boys!" Her favorite American food is fried chicken.

Cecilia said that she is delighted to be here, and we are all very happy to have her with us at Teays Valley.

High Court Nixes Student 'Trial' Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court brushed aside Monday the idea college demonstrators have a right to a "trial" before they can be suspended by officials for their activities.

The ruling serves to uphold the disciplinary powers of administrators and bars extension to the college campus of the court's affirmation last month of the free-speech rights of passive grade-school demonstrators.

Justice Abe Fortas, in a brief opinion, said that college students who engage in an "aggressive and violent demonstration" are not protected by the First Amendment's guarantees.

He distinguished the plea of 10 ousted West Virginia college students from the case of the De Moines, Iowa, school children whose rights to wear black armbands protesting the Vietnam war was upheld last month in a decision written by Fortas.

The Iowa children, Fortas said, were involved in peaceful nondisruptive expression. The 19 college students he said, were suspended "for violent and destructive interference with the rights of others."

The students were ousted from Bluefield State College in Bluefield, W.Va., following a 1967 demonstration termed "riotous" by school officials.

Eye Extended School Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress Monday for two-year extension of a school program designed to help the educationally disadvantaged.

In taking this position, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch told the House Education and Labor Committee that "a careful review" of this and other programs inherited from the Johnson administration is under way.

Finch, in his initial appearance before the committee, said it is for this reason he suggested a two-year extension rather than five years as proposed in a bill introduced by Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky.

The program, which provides more than $1 billion to help schools with special projects for educationally disadvantaged, expires June 30, 1970.

This is the committee's final day of hearings before it starts drafting a bill Tuesday which house leaders hope to have passed before start of the Congressional Easter recess April 3.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Teays Valley Vikings have picked seven seniors of the week. They are Becky Hoffman, Mary Beth Sealock, Kevin Kunke, Linda Karr, Jay Bastian, Cheryl Roby and Greg Thornton.

Becky is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hoffman of 249 E. Main St., Ashville.

Becky is enrolled in the college prep course, and she plans to attend Ohio State University and major in pharmacy following graduation.

Becky recently designed the cover for the Curriculum Guide, which is a description of courses for Teays Valley High School. She also has painted pictures on the windows at school on various occasions.

Becky's hobbies are reading, drawing, painting, traveling and music. Her activities include National Honor Society, PTA, Science Club, newspaper staff, head majorette of the marching band and concert band.

Mary Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sealock Sr. of Orient.

Mary Beth is enrolled in the business course. Her favorite subjects are American government and bookkeeping.

Her hobbies include swimming and water skiing. Mary's extracurricular activities include Business Club and intramurals.

After graduation Mary plans to attend a business school and obtain a job.

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kunke of Route 4.

Kevin is enrolled in the general course at Teays Valley. His favorite subject is architectural drafting. After graduation he plans to attend Columbus Drafting College.

Kevin's extracurricular activities include track and cross country. His hobbies are hunting, archery and running.

Linda Karr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Karr of Route 1, Orient.

Linda is enrolled in the business course in high school and plans to do secretarial work after graduation.

Linda's favorite subject is American government.

Her hobbies are riding horses and sewing.

Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bastian, 173 E. Main St., Ashville.

He is enrolled in the college prep course. His favorite subject is American government.

Ashland, Kentucky Wesleyan Tourney Favorites

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Defending champion Kentucky Wesleyan and top-ranked Ashland College of Ohio are favored to battle their way into the championship game of the NCAA college division basketball tournament Friday night.

Eight regional winners open the 13th annual meet in Roberts Stadium Wednesday afternoon. With the Ashland Eagles and the No. 6 Wesleyan Panthers in opposite brackets, they seem headed on a collision course in the finale.

The first round pairings: 2:30 p.m. EST — San Francisco State (20-8) vs. American International of Springfield, Mass. (19-3). 4:30 p.m. — Montclair (N.J.) State (24-2) vs. Southwest Missouri of Springfield (22-4).

8 p.m. — Oglethorpe of Atlanta, Ga. (23-4) vs. Kentucky Wesleyan of Owensboro (22-5). 10 — Illinois State of Normal (19-

9) vs. Ashland (25-2).

Kentucky Wesleyan, winner in 1966 as well as last year when Bob Daniels made his debut as head coach, is powered by little All-American George Tansley, a 6-5 senior whose 23-point average is tops in the tournament. Rounding out the balanced attack are Gene Smith 11.3, Tom Hobgood 11.6 and Joel Bolden 10.7.

The Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels, a third-place finisher in 1963, are ranked fourth nationally in free throw percentage with .769 and are paced by Mike Dahl, 6-5 senior. Dahl has a 19.1 average with a stunning .525 field goal accuracy. Ernie Crahn is hitting at a 15.9 clip.

The Ashland Eagles are the nation's leading defensive club, holding foes to a 32.3 scoring average. Wayne Sokolowski, 6-9 junior, is averaging 11.1 in the disciplined offense and Jim Williams, 6-8 senior, is 10-5 with

.529 from the floor.

Coach Bill Musselman's Eagles were fourth-place finishers last year.

Illinois State's Redbirds, who took fourth in 1967, have fine balance with six players in double figures headed by Blaine Royer with 19.7 and Mike Green 13.9. The team's scoring average of 87.8 is the tournament high.

San Francisco's Golden Gators getting their first tourney shot at Evansville, have the meet's best field goal percentage with .498 and third highest scorer, Joe Callaghan, 6-6 senior, with 21.2. Adding to the punch is another 6-6 senior, Girard Chapman, with 20.8. The Gators played five overtime games during the season, winning three of them.

The Yellow Jackets of American International have a 13-game winning streak. They are geared by Greg Hill, a 6-3 junior, with 20.0, Rob Rutherford 15.4 and Curtis Mitchell 13.1. The Jackets were beaten in the quarter-finals in 1959 and 1968.

The Montclair Indians, another newcomer at Evansville, lead in rebound average with a hefty 63.2. It is the first team to go through the New Jersey College Conference unbeaten, and has the meet's longest winning streak, 15 games.

Luther Bowen, 5-9 senior, tops four regulars in double figures with 21.5 while Bob Lester has 14.3 averages in both scoring and rebounding.

The No. 12 Southwest Missouri Bears are tournament wise, making three previous trips and taking runnerup honors in 1967 and 1959.

They have won 11 straight games and are headed by Curtis Perry, 6-7 junior and a second team little All-American. Perry is clicking at 20.4 with a 15.3 rebound average,

Tiger Baseball Coach Hoping For Warmer Weather

Coach Dannie Fouts is hoping for some warm sunny days so he can start outdoor practice sessions for the Circleville High School baseball team.

The Tiger baseballers have been practicing for three weeks, but have been outside only once.

The first game is April 1 at Lancaster. Fouts has a nucleus of five lettermen to build around this year.

They are Rick Sims, Eddie Wells and Frank Carter, all seniors, and Ty Ankrom and Billy Thomas, both juniors.

will get a chance at first base along with Ray Williams, a transfer student from Lancaster.

Actually all positions are up for grabs, Fouts says.

At second base, he will give Randy Halley, Doyle Kiser and Mike Fuller all a good look. The third base question marks are Tom Bowers and Ty Ankrom.

POTENTIAL shortstops are Ankrom and Halley. Other infielders include Randy Greer, Chuck Walisa and Glen Griebel. Two veterans will be back for the outfield. They are Wells, left field, and Carter, center field. A sophomore may well be in right field this year. Tom Bowers and Mike Webb will both get a shot at that position according to the coach.

"We're going to play our nine best boys," Fouts said. A number of the positions may be decided on hitting ability.

The assistant baseball coach is Garold Sowder.

Dale Lambert Named To All-Metro '5'

Dale Lambert, Teays Valley's outstanding basketball player, was named to the first team All-Metropolitan League unit Monday.

Lambert, who averaged over 26 points a game during the season, set a new four-game Central District Tournament record of 117 points this year.

The 5-10 junior was named to the first team along with John Cunningham, Hamilton Twp. senior; Gary Chiero, Franklin Heights senior; John Kilbury, Dublin senior; Craig Landrum and Dan Thatcher, a pair of West Jefferson seniors.

Making up the second team were Don Bell and Neil Fosnough, both juniors from Teays Valley; Olbie Foiden, junior, West Jefferson; Mark Barnhart, senior, West Jefferson; Tony Wilson, senior; Franklin Heights; Steve Termer, senior, Dublin; Bob Fryer, senior, Hamilton Twp.; Mike Crabtree, senior, Hamilton Twp.

On the honorable mention list were Mark Pelphey and Mark Ryan of West Jefferson; Ed McCord and Larry Dixon, Teays Valley; Gene Schipp and Doug Calhoun, Dublin and Dave Gilliam, Hamilton.

West Jefferson was the Metropolitan League titleist this year.

Senators Will Seek 1st Win Of Exhibition Season

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ted Williams' new club could take a lesson from Ted Williams' old club on finding the quickest route across home plate.

The Washington Senators wasted 11 base runners Monday and bowed to the new Kansas City Royals 4-0, giving Manager Williams an 0-for-4 collar in the exhibition baseball standings.

Meanwhile, the unbeaten Boston Red Sox, for whom Williams cleared the bases four times with homers in a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

In four games, three of them against the Kansas City expansion club, Washington has scored a total of eight runs. And five were tallied with the aid of just one hit in last Thursday's opener against the New York Yankees.

With Frank Howard, the American League's 1968 home run king, a holdout, the Senators' power failure has been acute. Their next home run will be their first. The Red Sox have walloped eight homers in three starts. Monday, Tony Conigliaro's kid brother, Billy, slugged his second in two days and Ken Harrelson, George Scott and pinch hitter Gerry Moses each connected in the eighth inning, breaking open a 3-3 struggle.

Galen Cisco, Steve Jones and Larry Sherry combined to scattered seven hits as the Royals blanked the penniless Senators. Jones, picked up from Washington in the expansion draft, hurled three hitless innings.

Buddy Bradford smacked Dick Radatz' first pitch for a homer in the 12th inning, sending the Chicago White Sox past the Detroit Tigers 6-5, and Frank Fernandez homered as the Yankees trimmed the Atlanta Braves 5-2 for a 3-0 exhibition mark.

Rookie first baseman Bob Robertson drilled a two-run first inning homer and stroked a run-scoring single in the second before leaving the game with a knee injury as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed St. Louis 6-0. Chuck Hartenstein, Barry Houser and Larry Killingsworth blanked the Cardinals on four hits. Robertson twisted his knee sliding in the second inning.

The Houston Astros spotted Los Angeles two first inning runs, then bunched five in the fifth—with Doug Rader's bases-loaded triple the big blow—for a 5-2 verdict over the Dodgers.

San Diego southpaw Dick Kelley hit one Cleveland batter, walked two more and then threw away a double play ball in the seventh inning, handing the Indians an unearned run and a 5-4 nod over the Padres.

Rookie Ron Stone's two-run single in a three-run fifth inning burst propelled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and newcomer Ralph Garr drove in three runs in the Atlanta "B" team's 6-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

The San Francisco Giants-Chicago Cubs and Oakland Athletics-Seattle Pilots games were rained out.

On the holdout fronts, slugger first baseman Willie McCovey and pitching ace Juan Marichal remained outside the Giants' fold while Howard reportedly reduced his demands and Sonny Siebert, Cleveland's only unsigned player, agreed to terms.

McCovey, the National League home run leader last season with 36, is seeking a multi-year contract. Marichal, who won 26 games for the Giants, wants a raise over the estimated $100,000 he received in 1968.

"We're about $5,000 and one year apart," McCovey said of his situation.

The Senators said Howard, who originally asked for a three-year, $330,000 package, has agreed to a one-year contract but still isn't satisfied with the club's last money offer.

Siebert, 12-10 with the Indians last year, said he would report to camp as soon as possible, the club announced.

CARL CLOUTTS ONE—Carl Yastrzemski, Boston Red Sox star slugger, belts a good one during batting practice at the Bosox spring camp at Winter Haven, Fla. Just a few days ago Carl signed a $115,000 plus contract for 1969.

Pro Golfers Deny Charges They're Cheap To Caddies

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Golf's touring pros say charges by a professional caddy that the pros are "by and large a bunch of stiffs" just aren't true.

The caddy, a 22-year veteran who calls himself The Baron, said in a report published by The Associated Press that the pros will "spend $100 an evening to entertain some doll and pay their caddy $120 a week."

The Baron thinks caddies should get five per cent of what a pro earns in a tournament and claims Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin pay better than the pros.

"We resent the Baron's charges," said Gardner Dickinson, a member of the PGA tournament policy board. "I average better than 10 per cent myself. The Baron had better stick to caddying for Dean Martin."

"It might be a little hard for the Baron to get a job this week," said Dan Sikes, another board member, here for the Monsanto Open, which begins Thursday.

"I don't think Dow Finster-wald will be looking for him any more."

The Baron caddied for Finsterwald at the Doral Open in Miami two weeks ago. He claimed Finsterwald, who failed to make the cut, gave him $80 for five days work.

"I used to caddy for 25 cents a day," said veteran Lionel Herbert. "and now caddies are getting $20 a day. When you consider the job they do, I don't think any caddy is worth five per cent."

Bert Yancey and Tom Weiskopf say it's no one's business what the pros pay their caddies.

"A lot of us are playing for nothing, too," Yancey added.

"The caddies don't play the shots," Weiskopf said.

Sowder Quits CHS Cage Post

Garold Sowder, Circleville High School basketball coach of one year, submitted his resignation to the board of education Monday.

Sowder has accepted the position of vice president of the Sowder Concrete Co. of Dayton. The firm is owned by his uncle.

Also resigning athletic positions last night were Dick Fisher, who has been assistant football coach for many years, and Don Poling, faculty manager.

Fisher and Poling both will remain on the Circleville faculty.

SOWDER, a product of winning basketball at Dixie High School, introduced an exciting brand of basketball to CHS fans this year.

His scrambling run and shoot offense produced five wins in 19 games this year, even though he did not have a starter over 6-feet 2-inches tall.

No plans have been made to fill the vacancies created by the resignations, according to the office of Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of schools.

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — First baseman Mike Epstein had just checked in at the Washington camp when Manager Ted Williams asked him to step into his office.

"He said hello," said Epstein. "I said hello. He said, 'Let's get down to some serious baseball talk. And he proceeded to ask me what I try to do when I'm up at the plate.'"

Did Epstein get the feeling that Williams could help him with his hitting.

"Ted Williams," replied Epstein, "gives you that impression no matter what he's talking about."

Call it his exuberance, his knowledge, his presence—whatever it is—there is a feeling beginning to grow at this camp that those assets will enable Williams to get the most out of what abilities the Senators have.

And what abilities do they have?

After less than two short weeks of eyeing the material on hand, Williams says:

"I don't want to make the mistake of going overboard too soon—a mistake even experienced baseball managers make. But there are some guys out there who look like they can do it."

Some of the guys out there pulled the Senators to a tie for sixth place two years ago, but some of those same guys let the club drift into last place in 1968 despite the fact Frank Howard led the majors in homers with 44.

What Williams sees—and can't understand—is a catcher like Paul Casanova who was on the All-Star in 1967 and back in the minors last year, a pitcher like Phil Ortega who won only one game after May last year and a guy with Epstein's credentials who hit just .234.

The Senators' strong point last year was an outfield composed of Howard, who hit those 44 homers, drove in 106 runs and hit .274; and two newcomers—Del Unser and Brant Aleya. They just might remain as a unit.

There also are two good-looking young prospects—Tom Grieve, who hit .296 at Burlington, N.C. and .290 at Salisbury, N.C., and Gene Martin, who hit .259 with Burlington but showed power with 15 homers and 39 RBI. With Howard an established power hitter, Williams undoubtedly would like to find someone to complement him—and it just could be Epstein, who hit at a .276 clip with 12 homers after returning from the minors.

The rest of the infield is veteran with Bernie Allen at second base, Ed Brinkman at short and Ken McMullen at third. Two others who might break in are Dick Billings, .276 with 11 homers and 35 RBI at Buffalo, and Hank Allen, the brother of Philadelphia's Richie Allen.

Pitching is the big question-mark. Williams sees strong arms, poor records—and wonders.

Drake's Bulldogs In NCAA Tourney

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Drake's streaking Bulldogs, boasting a 10-game winning streak and the scalp of rugged Louisville, completed the field Monday night for the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament opening here Thursday night.

The Bulldogs, co-champions of the Missouri Valley Conference and carrying a 23-4 season record, eased past Louisville 77-73 Monday night at Wichita, Kan., to decide the MVC representative in the NCA A tournament.

Louisville, which has gone to the NCAA the past two years, headed for the National Invitational Tournament as its consolation prize after bowing to Drake.

For Drake, this will be the first trip to the NCAA tourney.

Dave Sorenson Gets Double Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State junior Dave Sorenson won double honors at the OSU basketball banquet Monday when he was named captain of next year's team and elected most valuable player of the year.

The 6-foot-8 native of Findlay started every game for the Bucks in the past two years and averaged 23.6 points a game. This year he led the team in every category except free throws, a record held by junior Jody Finney, who has a .900 shot average.

Elvin Hayes Solid 1st In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — With two weeks to go in the National Basketball Association season, Elvin Hayes, San Diego's sensational rookie, appears certain to reign as scoring king while Wilt Chamberlain is closing in on the rebounding and field goal percentage titles again.

Hayes, with 2,089 points and a 29-point average, through games of last Sunday, was well ahead of Baltimore's Earl Monroe, who jumped from fourth to second place last week with a total of 1,878 points.

Rich Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies struck out 161 times in 152 games last season. It was two less than the National League record.

Schmidt Denies He Will Quit Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions are hunting for a new chief talent scout, but Coach Joe Schmidt denies a report that he intends to resign as a result of a front-office shake-up.

Owner William Clay Ford confirmed Monday that the National Football League club has fired 38-year-old Carl Brettschneider, the former All-Star linebacker who, as director of player personnel for the Lions, helped bring the team three of the league's most talented rookies.

Tiger Baseball Coach Hoping For Warmer Weather

Coach Dannie Fouts is hoping for some warm sunny days so he can start outdoor practice sessions for the Circleville High School baseball team.

The Tiger baseballers have been practicing for three weeks, but have been outside only once.

The first game is April 1 at Lancaster. Fouts has a nucleus of five lettermen to build around this year.

They are Rick Sims, Eddie Wells and Frank Carter, all seniors, and Ty Ankrom and Billy Thomas, both juniors.

THE Tiger pitching staff and most of the infield will be new.

Tabbed as possible starters by Fouts are Billy Thomas, Randy Dresbach, Tom Bowers and Bryce Brown. Although the four have had experience in the Circleville Youth Baseball summer program, none has pitched a high school game.

Thomas and Ty Ankrom have had infield experience. They will probably share the catching duties this year.

Senators Will Seek 1st Win Of Exhibition Season

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ted Williams' new club could take a lesson from Ted Williams' old club on finding the quickest route across home plate.

The Washington Senators wasted 11 base runners Monday and bowed to the new Kansas City Royals 4-0, giving Manager Williams an 0-for-4 collar in the exhibition baseball standings.

Meanwhile, the unbeaten Boston Red Sox, for whom Williams slammed 521 home runs, cleared the bases four times with homers in a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

In four games, three of them against the Kansas City expansion club, Washington has scored a total of eight runs. And five were tallied with the aid of just one hit in last Thursday's opener against the New York Yankees.

With Frank Howard, the American League's 1968 home

run king, a holdout, the Senators' power failure has been acute. Their next home run will be their first. The Red Sox have walloped eight homers in three starts. Monday, Tony Conigliaro's kid brother, Billy, slugged his second in two days and Ken Harrelson, George Scott and pinch hitter Gerry Moses each connected in the eighth inning, breaking open a 3-3 struggle.

Galen Cisco, Steve Jones and Larry Sherry combined to scattered seven hits as the Royals blanked the punchless Senators. Jones, picked up from Washington in the expansion draft, hurled three hitless innings.

Buddy Bradford smacked Dick Radatz' first pitch for a homer in the 12th inning, sending the Chicago White Sox past the Detroit Tigers 6-5, and Frank Fernandez homered as the Yankees trimmed the Atlanta Braves 5-2 for a 3-0 exhibition mark.

Schmidt Denies He Will Quit Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions are hunting for a new chief talent scout, but Coach Joe Schmidt denies a report that he intends to resign as a result of a front-office shake-up.

at Evansville, have the meet's best field goal percentage with 15.4 and third highest scorer, Joe Callaghan, 6-6 senior, with 21.2. Adding to the punch is another 6-6 senior, Girard Chapman, with 20.8. The Gators played five overtime games during the season, winning three of them.

The Yellow Jackets of American International have a 13-game winning streak. They are geared by Greg Hill, a 6-3 junior, with 20.0, Rob Rutherford with 15.4 and Curtis Mitchell 13.1. The Jackets were beaten in the quarter-finals in 1959 and 1968.

The Montclair Indians, another newcomer at Evansville, lead in rebound average with a hefty 63.2. It is the first team to go through the New Jersey College Conference unbeaten, and has the meet's longest winning streak, 15 games.

Luther Bowen, 5-9 senior, tops four regulars in double figures with 21.5 while Bob Lester has 14.3 averages in both scoring and rebounding.

The No. 12 Southwest Missouri Bears are tournament wise, making three previous trips and taking runnerup honors in 1967 and 1959.

They have won 11 straight games and are headed by Curtis Perry, 6-7 junior and a second team Little All-American. Perry is clicking at 20.4 with a 15.3 rebound average,

Cincinnati Reds and newcomer Ralph Garr drove in three runs in the Atlanta "B" team's 6-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

The San Francisco Giants-Chicago Cubs and Oakland Athletics-Seattle Pilots games were rained out.

On the holdout fronts, slugging first baseman Willie McCovey and pitching ace Juan Marichal remained outside the Giants' fold while Howard reportedly reduced his demands and Sonny Siebert, Cleveland's only unsigned player, agreed to terms.

McCovey, the National League home run leader last season with 36, is seeking a multi-year contract. Marichal, who won 26 games for the Giants, wants a raise over the estimated $100,000 he received in 1968.

"We're about $5,000 and one year apart," McCovey said of his situation.

The Senators said Howard, who originally asked for a three-year, $330,000 package, has agreed to a one-year contract but still isn't satisfied with the club's last money offer.

Siebert, 12-10 with the Indians last year, said he would report to camp as soon as possible, the club announced.

Weaver Thinks Baltimore Has Good Chance For Title

By MIKE RATHET

MIAMI (AP) — Earl Weaver, the Baltimore manager, was being asked about the Orioles' chances of overtaking Detroit in the Eastern Division of the American League.

"You finished 12 games behind the Tigers..." Weaver never let the sentence finish.

"No, 1½ games behind," he corrected. And Weaver had made his point.

When he took over the Orioles from Hank Bauer on July 11, the club already was 10½ games behind the front-running Tigers. They dropped behind only another 1½ games the remainder of the season while compiling a 48-34 record.

Weaver obviously feels the Orioles can make up that ground on the Tigers, and stay in front of Cleveland, Boston,

New York and Washington in their division of the AL's two-division set-up this season.

"We can make up the ground," said Weaver, "with Paul bouncing back, Frank having a whole year without problems and because Palmer looks like he's on the way back—and I'm expecting big things from him."

Paul is Paul Blair, the speedy center fielder who hit only .211 after breaking an ankle. Frank is Frank Robinson, the hard-hitting right fielder who, bothered by mumps and an arm injury, fell off to .268 with 15 homers and 52 runs batted in.

And Palmer is Jim Palmer, one of the heroes of Baltimore's 1966 pennant-winners when he posted a 15-10 record—but a troubled pitcher since who has spent the last two seasons in the minors trying to shake back and shoulder ailments.

Palmer could be the key addition to a pitching staff which has quite a few strong young arms. Dave McNally won 22 last year, Jim Hardin posted 12 victories and Tom Phoebus pitched a no-hitter. Phoebus, however, has set himself back by holding out.

Additional strength should come from a return to form by Palmer and the availability of Mike Cuellar, acquired from Houston in an off-season trade for Curt Blefary. Cuellar, 8-11 last year, was one of the National League's big winners in 1967 with 16 victories.

Three youngsters with promise also could fortify the staff—Mike Adamson, Rick Delgado and Al Severinsen. Adamson was 8-4, Delgado 9-5 and Severinsen 2-0 with a 1.42 earned run average in 38 games at Rochester last year.

Elsewhere, the Orioles will go with virtually the same line-up as last year.

Andy Etchebarren will be the No. 1 catcher, Boog Powell will be at first base, Dave Johnson at second, Mark Belanger at short and Brooks Robinson at third. There is little chance for anyone breaking in here.

In the outfield, Blair, Robinson and Don Buford, a .282 hitter with 15 homers last year, seem set, although two heavy hitting youngsters are waiting should anyone falter—Merv Rettenmund and Dave May. Rettenmund hit .331 at Rochester last year with 22 homers while May batted .310.

It's a club that was solid after Weaver took over last year—and a club that, with the improvements Weaver is looking for, certainly could win the division title and the American League pennant this season.

By MIKE RATHET
MIAMI (AP)—Earl Weaver, the Baltimore manager, was being asked about the Orioles' chances of overtaking Detroit in the Eastern Division of the American League.
"You finished 12 games behind the Tigers..."
Weaver never let the sentence finish.
"No, 1½ games behind," he corrected.
And Weaver had made his point.
When he took over the Orioles from Hank Bauer on July 11, the club already was 10½ games behind the front-running Tigers. They dropped behind only another 1½ games the remainder of the season while compiling a 48-34 record.
Weaver obviously feels the Orioles can make up that ground on the Tigers, and stay in front of Cleveland, Boston,

New York and Washington in their division of the AL's two-division set-up this season.
"We can make up the ground," said Weaver, "with Paul bouncing back, Frank having a whole year without problems and because Palmer looks like he's on the way back—and I'm expecting big things from him."
Paul is Paul Blair, the speedy center fielder who hit only 211 after breaking an ankle. Frank is Frank Robinson, the hard-hitting right fielder who, bothered by mumps and an arm injury, fell off to .268 with 15 homers and 52 runs batted in.
And Palmer is Jim Palmer, one of the heroes of Baltimore's 1966 pennant-winners when he posted a 15-10 record—but a troubled pitcher since who has spent the last two seasons in the minors trying to shake back and shoulder ailments.

Palmer could be the key addition to a pitching staff which has quite a few strong young arms. Dave McNally won 22 last year, Jim Hardin posted 18 victories and Tom Phoebus pitched a no-hitter. Phoebus, however, has set himself back by holding out.
Additional strength should come from a return to form by Palmer and the availability of Mike Cuellar, acquired from Houston in an off-season trade for Curt Blefary. Cuellar, 8-11 last year, was one of the National League's big winners in 1967 with 16 victories.
Three youngsters with promise also could fortify the staff—Mike Adamson, Rick Delgado and Al Severinsen. Adamson was 8-4, Delgado 9-5 and Severinsen 2-0 with a 1.42 earned run average in 38 games at Rochester last year.
Elsewhere, the Orioles will go with virtually the same line-up as last year.
Andy Etchebarren will be the No. 1 catcher, Boog Powell will be at first base, Dave Johnson at second, Mark Belanger at short and Brooks Robinson at third. There is little chance for anyone breaking in here.
In the outfield, Blair, Robinson and Don Buford, a .282 hitter with 15 homers last year, seem set, although two heavy-hitting youngsters are waiting should anyone falter—Merv Rettenmund and Dave May. Rettenmund hit .331 at Rochester last year with 22 homers while May batted .310.
It's a club that was solid after Weaver took over last year—and a club that, with the improvements Weaver is looking for, certainly could win the division title and the American League pennant this season.

Medal Of Honor Secretly Given; Family Had Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — A widow refused for months to accept a Medal of Honor awarded her husband for bravery in Vietnam, then consented to receive it only in secret.

Mrs. Mary Jo Sargent of Hampton, Va., widow of Army 1st Lt. Rupert Leon Sargent, was given the nation's highest military award by a brigadier general who called at her home Monday, Pentagon sources said. Lt. Sargent was killed in 1967 when he fell on two enemy hand grenades.

She wanted no publicity and opposed accepting the medal for religious reasons, her mother said. Both are Jehovah's Witnesses.

The unusual incident was a source of keen embarrassment and frustration for the Army.

Officials said they could not recall a similar instance, but in 1952 Halsey McGovern refused to accept a Medal of Honor awarded posthumously to one of his sons killed in Korea, contending President Harry S. Truman was "unworthy to confer" it.

"I think we were at the point once where we just wanted to pack up the award and mail it to her," one Army officer commented.

Mrs. Sargent could not be reached for comment.

The lieutenant's mother, Mrs. Janet Sargent, said in Hampton that both she and her daughter-in-law opposed the award because of their beliefs as Jehovah's Witnesses. She would not explain further.

Generally, Jehovah's Witnesses believe in allegiance only to God and not to organized governments or religion.

Pentagon officers said they understood Sargent's mother opposed his being in the military.

Their records showed he was not a draftee, but volunteered in 1959 and became an officer in 1965.

Military sources in Washington said records indicated former President Johnson approved the medal for Sargent in July 1968.

Because of the family's reluctance to accept it, the award had to be approved again when President Nixon took office.

In accordance with the widow's wishes, the Army planned no announcement of any sort about Sargent's award even though it was going into the records as the 75th Medal of Honor given in the Vietnam war and would have been impossible to conceal.

Ask Law To Protect 'Failing Newspapers'

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rocked back on its heels by the Supreme Court, the newspaper industry turned today to Congress to save joint operating agreements between editorially competing dailies in 21 cities.

The Court's 7-1 disapproval of the two Tucson, Ariz., newspapers' business department merger cast a long shadow of doubt on similar pacts. Their survival may rest on a drive for new legislation.

And at least one senator, Democrat Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii, said he will introduce a bill Wednesday to authorize joint commercial operations of newspapers if one partner is deemed failing.

But it is anybody's guess whether Inouye's bill or others already introduced in this 91st Congress will get any farther than proposed legislation that died last year.

The idea is to provide an antitrust exemption for commercial pacts between otherwise competing newspapers if one of the papers' survival is doubtful.

The industry maintains the public benefits because an editorial voice that would be stifled by financial death is kept alive. In Tucson, operators of the

Earnhart Hill Water District Plans Meeting

The Earnhart Hill Water District has scheduled an open meeting 7:30 p.m. March 19 at Logan Elm High School to discuss the water project.

The water district will provide service to an area east of Circleville in Washington and Pickaway Twp. where the water table is low.

Officers of the district are Russell Parish, president; Walter Rase, vice president; Claude Cox, secretary-treasurer.

Cox reported there are presently about 60 prospective consumers signed with the district.

Daily Star and the Daily Citizen agree in 1940 to merge their production, circulation, business and advertising departments for 25 years. In 1953 the agreement was extended until 1990.

Justice William O. Douglas' opinion for the court found obvious antitrust violations and said an exemption could not be justified through use of what is called the failing company defense.

That is, Douglas said, there was no indication owners of the Citizen were contemplating a liquidation prior to the joint agreement. "There is no evidence," he said, "that the joint operating agreement was the last straw at which Citizen grasped."

Douglas described the failing company defense as "a judicially created doctrine." And without actually inviting passage of legislation he noted that Congress had taken no action on any of the proposed bills.

Reflecting on the ruling, Jack R. Howard, president of Scripps-Howard newspapers, said enactment of new legislation is imperative. He said operations such as the one in Tucson have ensured editorial competition in cities, in some cases for more than three decades.

Arthur B. Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said ANPA will seek to have Congress enact "appropriate remedial legislation."

And Richard J. MacLaury, a San Francisco lawyer who argued for the Tucson newspapers in the Court, said in a telephone interview:

"The Court apparently felt that it was required by precedent to declare the Tucson agreement invalid. This leaves the publishers no alternative but to ask Congress to adopt new legislation which will enable two newspapers to continue publishing in rivalry with each other

McCarthy Might Accept 'Draft' For U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who said last fall he would not seek re-election as a Minnesota Democrat in 1970, now says he might accept his party's draft—if it is strong enough.

McCarthy, relaxed and smiling, told an interviewer in his Senate office that he has "not thought about getting out of politics altogether."

Back in the capital after a weekend trip to Minnesota, his first time home since the presidential election, McCarthy reinforced a statement at a Minneapolis news conference that he has made no final decision on whether to seek re-election to his Senate seat.

"I do not know what I will do in 1970," he said. "I might be drafted by the (Democratic) party. I would have to see how strong such a draft was."

not only in Tucson but in 21 other cities throughout the country."

North Koreans And Americans Exchange Fire

SEOUL (AP) — North Korea charged U.S. military maneuvers in South Korea were aimed to "provoke a new war," and American forces exchanged fire today with Communist soldiers on the western sector of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Air Force Maj. Gen. James B. Knapp, head of the U.N. Command at Panmunjom, told a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission the North Koreans fired on an American outpost and the fire was returned. He gave no more details but proposed an on-the-spot investigation by a joint observer team.

The senior North Korean delegate, Maj. Gen. Lee Choon-sun, charged the Americans opened fire. He did not accept Knapp's proposal.

It was the first exchange of fire along the DMZ since November.
